WATERWAY CONVENTION DELEGATES HERE

Several hundred delegates from the 11th annual convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association being held in Boston this week came to Lowell today. In automobiles and were the guests of Mayor Thompson for several hours. They arrived here about 10 o'clock this morning and visited a number of the local mills, including the Massachusetts and the Hamilton, under the guidance of His Honor and the officials of the industries. Later in the day the Textile school was visited. The visitors had their machines bedecked with large pennants and made an impressive showing as they rode about the city in parade formation.

ESTATE WORTH $20,000

New York Man Is Seeking

the Heirs of Thomas and Susan White

If there are any children or descendants of Thomas and Susan White in Lowell they can claim an estate valued at $20,000, according to a communication received this morning by Mayor Thompson from John J. Dwyer, a New York attorney. It is believed that Mr. and Mrs. White lived here at one time. The letter explains the matter in detail and is as follows:

Sept. 25, 1918.
The Mayor, Lowell, Mass.
Dear Sir: In 1881 Thomas White, a shoemaker, native of Canada, resided at Reading, Mass. He was then married, the given name of his wife being Susan. It is believed that they had three or more children and that within a few years subsequent to 1881 the family moved to Lowell.
If there are any children or descendants of Thomas and Susan White they can probably recover an estate of the approximate value of $20,000.
Anyone having any information should communicate with the undersigned at once. Yours truly,
JOHN J. DWYER,
61 Broadway, New York.

Wilson to Face Thousands in

New York Tonight; When

City Starts Bond Drive

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—President Wilson's address, at the Metropolitan Opera House here tonight, signalling the opening of the national campaign for the fourth Liberty loan was awaited with intense interest and thousands today clamored in vain for tickets of admission. The available 5000 seats have been reserved for Liberty loan commitments. Of the 50,000 commitments from the New York federal reserve about 8000 came here from out of town in the hope of hearing the president.

The meeting will begin with the singing of "America" by the audience. Benjamin Strong, president of the federal reserve bank of New York, will make a short address. John McCormack will sing "The Star Spangled Banner" and then the president will speak. The popular belief is that, in addition to making a stirring appeal for the sale of bonds, he will reply to the recent speech of Count von Hertling, the German imperial chancellor.

Before the meeting opens there will be a "concert of noise" for half an hour, from powerful air raid sirens, police emergency whistles, church bells and other sound producers. The "All clear" signal for the air raid sirens will be sounded just before the president starts to speak.

There were six deaths here today from the disease. The state board of health is considering the closing of public places. The police have been ordered to enforce the anti-spitting laws rigidly.

Forts Standing Impregnable 4 Years Taken by Allies, Who Now Menace Cambrai

Americans in Most Spectacular Attack of War—

United States Planes Rake Huns Just Ahead of Fleet of Yank Tanks

PARIS, Sept. 27.—The end of the Bulgarian nation as a co-belligerent of the central powers against the allies, and the breaking of the first link in Germany's defensive chain, is indicated by news received today from the French commander-in-chief in Macedonia.

First, he reported the Bulgarians asked for a meeting to arrange conditions of an armistice and eventual peace.

He told his superiors here he had refused to suspend operations, but had told enemy representatives he would receive duly qualified delegates of the Bulgarian government.

The British government today received from an official authorized source, an application from Bulgaria for an armistice.

(By the Associated Press)
Under allied smashes on two wide fronts between Arras and Verdun, the German defensive system based on the fortress of Laon is being shaken severely.

Marshal Foch while continuing the successful Franco-American thrust from east of Rheims to Verdun, has hurled the British against the German lines north of Cambrai on a front south of the Seneffe river.

From the new lines reached Tuesday night the American forces between the Argonne and the Meuse continue to press northwest through the hilly wooded country northwest of Verdun. The Americans are well beyond the original German lines and hold important observation points along the front. A light rain fell Friday on the American sector and the weather was unfavorable for observation.

West of the Argonne to the Selpe, the French have advanced more than three and one half miles and taken the French defense points, including the famous Novarin farm, the Butte-du-Tahure and the Butte-du-Mesnil. General Petain's men took more than 7000 prisoners who, with the 5000 taken by Americans, bring the allied total for the first day of the attack to 12,000.

In the Argonne forest itself, the allies apparently are making little effort to move northward. The allied command seemingly believes that the forest will be cleared automatically as the Americans and French progress on either side. Already the Germans facing the French have been outflanked on the east.

The new British attack launched Friday morning is north of the scene of the operations of the last fortnight looking to the encirclement of St. Quentin and threatens the German defenses north and west of Cambrai. South of the Seneffe river, the British are well within the Hindenburg line.

GRAND ARMY VETERAN OF LOWELL

Mr. Parshley, a member of Post 185, G.A.R., who has lived in Lowell for the past 15 years at 135 Pinken street, says:

"I am 75 years old and for the past five years I have been troubled with indigestion and constipation so bad that my head would ache for hours at a time. The food that I would eat would feel like a lump in my stomach and I would have pains all over my body. After taking the Vitalitas treatment which I heard so much about, I am pleased to say that it did wonders in my case. Now I can eat anything my fancy desires without any bad after effects. Headaches have left me and the pains in my body are gone. I think there is nothing like Vitalitas."

Take Vitalitas now and protect your system against the debilitating conditions of the long winter months to come. Nervous, run-down people, people who suffer with rheumatism, indigestion, kidney or liver ills, should take the Vitalitas treatment at once. Remember, the remedy free from alcohol or dangerous drugs. PLANS COMPLETE BULGAR PEACE

Everything Ready for Opening of "Fighting Fourth" Liberty Loan Campaign

Tomorrow "Big Day" of Drive—Lowell Must Raise $7,000,000 by October 19

The last word has been spoken and the last preparation made for the opening of Lowell's "fighting fourth" Liberty loan campaign tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The organization in Lowell as well as all the towns of northern Middlesex county is complete and ready for the opening whistle.

Saturday is to be the "big" day of the drive. The fireworks are scheduled to come at the beginning instead of the end of the drive, as has been the case in previous campaigns. Every energy and effort of the campaign workers will be concentrated on the purchase of an overwhelming subscription on the first day. The committee feels that everybody in Lowell who is going to subscribe to the fourth loan can do it tomorrow just as easily as three weeks from tomorrow.

The banks are ready for the anticipated deluge of subscriptions and many of them will keep open all day tomorrow instead of their regular hours.

The bonds will pay 4 1/2 per cent interest and may be bought in the regular government installments as follows: Ten per cent, down, 20 per cent on November 21, December 19 and January 18 and a final payment of 30 per cent on January 30.

Even better terms are offered by the local banks and trust companies. You can arrange with them to buy a bond on weekly installments.

Lowell will be called upon to raise approximately $7,000,000 before October 19. The women of the city have agreed to undertake the task of raising $1,000,000 of this.

The campaign opening will be signalized by the ringing of bells and blowing of mill whistles here at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Every material stimulation for a record-breaking first day subscription has been provided by the campaign committee.

Several large subscriptions have already been received and among them is one for $5000 from the Everlastik corporation, T. Martin & Co. The United States Fencing Co. is preparing for a $50,000 subscription. Various other large mills and manufacturing plants have indicated their intention of subscribing the first thing Saturday morning.

In the Towns
The various towns in northern Middlesex county are all ready for the opening gun of the campaign. In Chelmsford the committee in charge has taken upon itself the task of raising $75,000, twice as much as was raised in the third loan. A final meeting of the loan committee, Herbert E. Ellis, chairman, will be held this evening in the town hall.

North Dillerica's quota is $135,000, an increase of $20,000 over the previous drive. Thomas T. Clark is chairman of the committee. The Boston & Maine car shops' whistles will blow at the opening hour of the drive and all the church bells will ring.

Tewksbury's Liberty loan campaign committee is ready for the start of the drive. This town's quota is $70,000 and a committee of women headed by Mrs. H. M. Larrabee will assist in securing this amount. Effective publicity work for the drive has been done by the school children of the town.

Not much change in Grippe epidemic

The status of Lowell's epidemic remained about the same today with the exception of a slight decrease in the number of new cases reported. A total of 30 cases were reported at the office of the board of health up to noon in comparison with 101 reported at the same hour yesterday. This brought the total number of cases to date to 723. Four more deaths were reported today, making the total since the epidemic began 19.

The matter of re-opening the schools and theatres Monday has not yet been decided one way or another. The board of health has not yet taken any action although it is expected that a meeting will be held within a short time to discuss the matter. The theatre managers have been left more or less in the air as to preparations for next week's performances.

It has been noted that the public schools in Lawrence have been ordered closed until Oct. 7.

GERMAN ILLS INCREASE

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 27.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The war has been responsible for the development of numerous ailments in Germany, asserts Professor Albu in an article in the Berlin Lokalan Zeiger. Its effects have aggravated various human ills.

There can be no doubt, he says, that many people are ageing more rapidly now owing to the worries and difficulties of daily life. People are going gray sooner. The action of the heart and blood vessels suffers. Exhaustive observations he believes, point to the fact that both at home and in the field, arterio sclerosis is a genuine war disease. "What part chronic underfeeding takes in this, we do not yet know," he adds. The increased blood pressure on the heart and the blood vessels entails many dangers.

Only in the years after the war we shall be able to gauge the full extent of this unprecedented tension which is using up human strength. Individual power of resistance of course plays a great part in organic reaction.

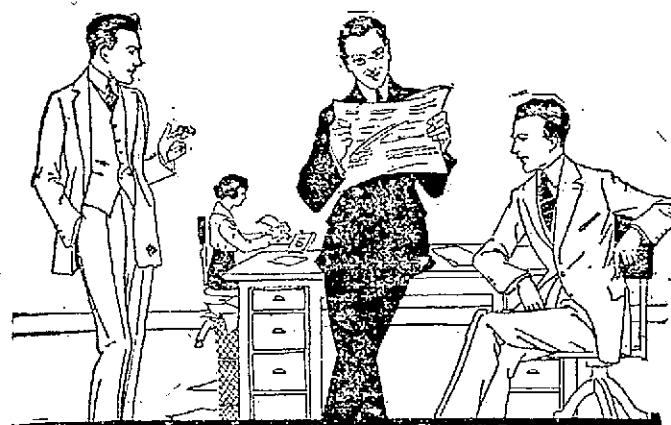

The number of those who have gone through this endless war so far without any impairment of health is not large, and it is safe to say that when we come to the end, there will be few indeed who can claim perfect immunity. It seems to me, therefore, that it is the wrong policy for the authorities to place so many difficulties in the way of people who need rest, relaxation and a change of air and surroundings.

"The state," Professor Albu concludes, "and this may well apply to all belligerent nations—needs careful husbanding of human material. Public and social hygiene are faced with problems of stupendous magnitude."

HUN FLYERS' FEET COLD

American Aviator Says They Insist on Staying on Their Own Side During Daylight

BY HAROLD EDWIN RECHTOL
(European Manager of Newspaper Enterprise Association).

LONDON, Sept. — Up in Belgium and Northern France, the German airmen can't be coaxed west of their own lines in daytime.

They simply won't come over on the allies' side!

Day after day, as surely as the sun rises, the allied airmen go miles and miles into Germany in broad daylight to see what the Germans are doing and to bomb military objectives.

But the only times the Hun tries to "come back" is at night, and he's growing more timid about those night raids each week.

Aside from the score of machines shot down, which is constantly sliding more and more in the allies' favor, these facts show how the war in the air is going.

British and American aviators who have come recently from the northern end of the line tell the same story. One of them, Lieutenant W. J. Armstrong of Philadelphia gave this as an illustration:

"I was one of seven American fliers

"Thirty Germans Flee From Seven

"We ran into a bunch of 30 German planes. And we didn't get a chance to put in a single good shot! They just turned tail and scooted back into Germany as fast as they could go!"

Armstrong is in the American Army hospital at Dartford, England, the result of a fight he and two other American fliers had with eight German Fokkers, after an Ostend bombing raid recently. Todd and Alderman of North Carolina were the other two.

"The Germans' air policy seems to be to keep on their own side of the fence in daytime, no matter what happens," said Armstrong.

"We have to go far into Germany to find a German plane, and as for getting a fight even miles back of the line they'll generally run if the numbers are anything like equal. And often they beat it when they outnumber you three, four or five to one."

Armstrong, "Just in" from France, was strolling around the grounds in a bathrobe, so I took his word for it when he told me he had "only a scratch."

"Only a scratch, eh?" laughed a friend who came up as I was about to leave. "You're a hell of a reporter!"

And thanks to this friend, I found out more about Armstrong.

His "scratch" amounted to 14 stitches in the right arm and four in the back. One bullet each, but they lodged, and had to be cut out.

Bring Three Huns Down

This is how he got them:

Thirteen bombers, and 13 scouts to protect them, set out from an American air base to bomb Ostend in daylight. Returning, Armstrong, Todd and Alderman, three of the fighters, were flying above the others.

They got separated and eight Germans appeared, right above the American trio. The Americans fought, meantime drawing the Germans toward the other American bunch.

Armstrong stopped two bullets and Alderman's gun jammed, but by this time the rest of the Americans came speeding up and two Hun planes were accounted for before they got away.

"Did you shoot down either of the two Germans?" I asked Armstrong.

"No," he said.

"No, neither of those," corrected his friend. "But he has downed three Huns, and this is the first time they've kinged him."

An extraordinary rifle shot has been discovered in Private Pierre Flombeau, an Indian soldier at Camp Dix. He had had little experience with a rifle, but the first day he made a perfect score of 50 points, and he has repeated this feat time after time on all ranges from 100 to 50 yards, and rarely has his score fallen below 45. He can draw an outline of his profile in bullet holes at 200 yards.

It is important for the Public to realize at this time that the telephone service of this Company is to considerable extent impaired as a result of the prevalence of Grippe among its forces. As a result of a daily absentee list of several hundred employees the service is necessarily slower than at normal times in spite of the splendid effort of those who are capable of remaining on duty.

The Public can greatly aid the efforts of our operating forces in the following ways:

1. BY ELIMINATING UNNECESSARY CALLS.
2. By refraining, so far as possible, from special appeals to Chief Operators, whose entire time should in the present emergency be given to the supervision of their Central Offices.
3. By showing leniency to those still capable of remaining at work.

and on ground untouched previously by heavy fighting.

East of Cambrai, just west of the German line the new operation probably is planned to outflank the Hindenburg position from Cambrai to St. Quentin. The Franco-American thrust further south is aimed against the communications behind this front.

Serbian troops at the apex of the advancing allied salient in Macedonia have advanced more than 55 miles from their original positions. The important base of Ishtib has been occupied and the Serbs are fighting for Velest. Northeast of Ishtib, Serbian cavalry is pressing rapidly toward the Bulgarian border.

Baker Sees Start

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE CHAMPAGNE FRONT, Thursday, Sept. 26, 8:30 p. m.—(By the Associated Press.)—Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, witnessed the beginning of the American drive along the front north-west of Verdun this morning. At 5:30 o'clock, after the enemy positions had been bombarded with high explosives and gas shells, the American infantry advanced.

Squadrons of tanks again formed an effective part of the attacking forces especially in the region of Cheppy. These "land battleships" moved up with the infantry, smashing down wire entanglements and routing the enemy from machine gun nests. The work of the American airplanes was one of the features of the combat. An aerial barrier was maintained over the line, preventing the enemy from observing the movements of the troops. In spite of the fog, the airmen swooped low over the enemy trenches and materially assisted the advancing infantry.

Without a hitch and absolutely according to schedule the entire line was moving tonight into positions paralleling the line of attack.

The American assault was successful everywhere. The enemy's front line was occupied in advance of schedule and the progress continues, although the enemy's resistance is stiffening at certain places where an attack apparently was expected beforehand.

Positions For Years Impregnable

The Germans were forced to give up positions of great strength, which for years had proved almost impregnable. Consequently a feeling of much satisfaction is permissible but it is too early to announce definitely the results finally to be attained.

The counter battery work of the Germans to restrain our advance and his machine gun fire caused trouble. His air work was very imperfect early in the day, but improved later and was directed particularly against the American balloons. The American tanks did well when they assisted in the advance.

AMERICAN ARMY ON VERDUN FRONT, Sept. 27.—(10 a. m.)—(By The Associated Press.)—The American advance continued during last night on the front of the offensive launched yesterday. The American patrols pushed forward, maintaining contact with the enemy. Stout machine gun resistance met during the night at one point was quickly overcome with tanks and artillery.

The weather today was thick, light rains having begun in the early morning in the field of the American operations, obscuring observation.

Late information tends to confirm the belief that the German heavy artillery was caught in the act of withdrawal and was unable to operate or reply satisfactorily. It is not known

Mitchell Opens the Fall Season With a Sensational Offer of Genuine All Wool Overcoatings from the Carolina Mill of Connecticut

I don't recall the day in my nine years in Lowell when men were more insistent on stylish garments, and good, high grade qualities.

A dollar or two seems to have no influence in their selection, up-to-date merchandise alone dictates their choice. My actual experience today is that five men out of every six are buying the best merchandise I can buy for them and passing up the average makers.

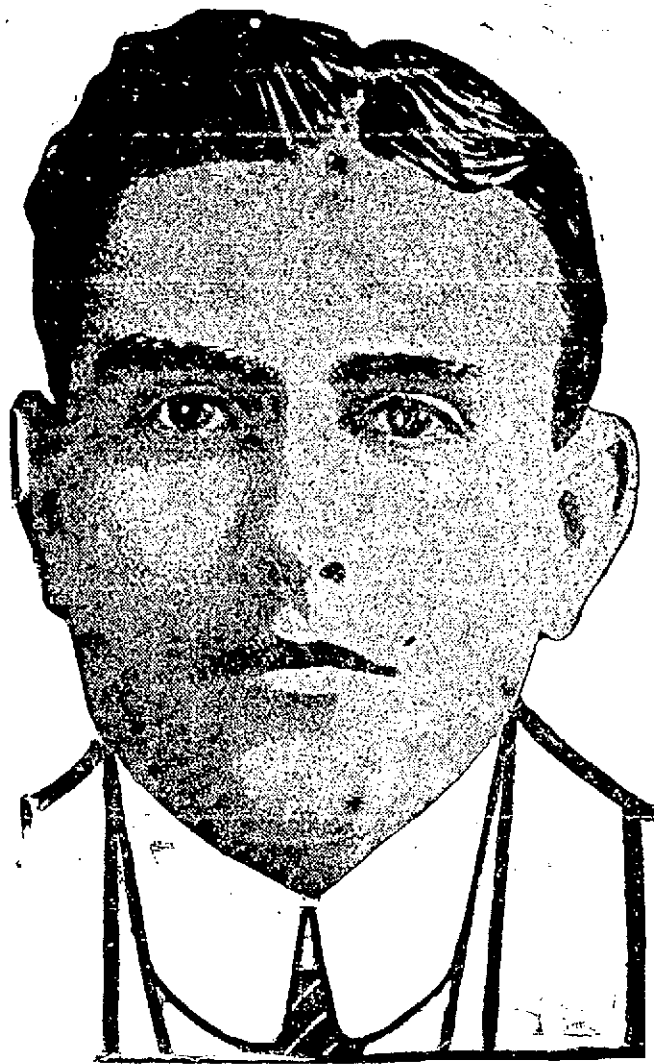

To meet the demand of these customers who rule the day I have obtained this line of Guaranteed All Wool Overcoatings in all their styles and colorings, suitable for the sporty young man, and the middle-aged, modest dresser.

AND TO FURTHER prove to you it is ability—and not luck—or accident, I bring to you the famous

STANDISH SILK AND WOOL WORSTED SUITINGS

The 100 per cent. cloths, silver spoon weaves and golden fleece textiles—all born in the purple and ermine, made by the best designing talent in one of the best mills in New England—The Standish Mill of Plymouth, Mass.

TO MY CUSTOMERS—Lowell has been good to me and I appreciate the fact. With all the world hankering for wool, our government requesting the mill men to stop manufacturing all wool cloths and make 40 per cent. mixed goods only, I am playing my present phenomenal purchase against the day when I, too, shall have to come to inferior cloths and the patriotism of a patriotic citizen—when all wool shall be no more.

at this hour whether any of the enemy big guns were captured.

Rouvroy, Cernay, En-Dormois and Servon-Melzicourt.

More than 7000 prisoners have been taken by the French.

The French forces resumed their attack this morning and despite unfavorable weather conditions satisfactory progress is being made.

British Official Report

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Field Marshal Haig's report follows:

"At 5:20 o'clock this morning our troops attacked over a wide front south of the Senne river. First reports indicate that satisfactory progress is being made."

"During the night, successful local operations were carried out in the neighborhood of Arleux, northwest of La Bassée and southwest of Fleurbaix. Our line was advanced by three localities and prisoners captured."

"The Germans, by their retirement today, have gained a little time in which to bring up reserves, while Gen. Gouraud is bringing up his guns. This is an advantage in which it is difficult to find sufficient compensation for the ground and men lost today. The lines they retired to are no stronger than those they abandoned."

Enemy Airmen Active

Enemy airmen made several spectacular attacks on trench observation balloons today. Only one balloon was destroyed but the observers in three others were forced to descend by parachute. One German airman attacked three balloons in quick succession, plunging down upon one and firing and then rising to dive at another. One of these burst into flames only an instant before the observer had jumped with his parachute. Shrapnel shells then began to burst close about the enemy machine and it turned and sped away for the German lines.

By a general review of the fight after many hours, it is evident that the enemy is stubbornly retiring to prepared lines to which all his heavy artillery has been withdrawn. This was the reason that his artillery reaction was inadequate during the early phases of the battle. The staff work of the American army was excellent. Continuous touch was maintained between divisions and reports were received without delay.

Ahead of the advancing French and

Americans are a number of important railway lines which flank the German positions along the front. If the drive continues to progress it will carry a distinct threat to the whole German position north of the Aisne, west of the present battlefield, and also tend to outflank the enemy's line before Metz and Briey.

That the enemy has prepared lines to which he is retiring is the belief of observers. Just where this line is located is not known exactly, but it is probable that the rate of progress of the allies, if maintained, will bring them up against this new front very soon.

Speed Surprises Germans

(WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE VERDUN FRONT, Thursday, Sept. 26, 10 p. m. Here are additional details reaching headquarters tonight telling of the advance early this morning of the Americans on the Germans and calling attention to the speed of the advance.)

The American troops took the Germans somewhat by surprise by the speed of their attack today and without giving them time to recuperate pushed them steadily northward. This evening the Americans between the Aronne and the Meuse had reached Malancourt, Montfaucon, Cuisy, Dannevoix and other towns along that line.

The example of intrepidity set by the Pennsylvania, Kansas and Missouri troops was followed by the men in the other American units.

The opposition at Montfaucon and Dannevoix and a few other points indicated that the German resistance was becoming stronger and it was apparent the enemy had had time to place in position some of the artillery withdrawn earlier in the day. Late in the afternoon the German aerial activity increased, indicating a determination to check what had developed so rapidly into a sweeping advance. The work of the tanks manned by French and Americans brought praise from the staff officers. The machines, however, were unable to display their abilities to the fullest extent because of the hazy condition of the terrain. The ground had been softened by recent rains and as the country naturally is swampy, many tanks became stalled in the mud, but they were not damaged as the infantry had driven the enemy well northward.

A most spectacular feature of the operation was the work of the aerial units. The aerial observers were able to accomplish little until the afternoon, but before the echoes of the opening barrage had died away the pursuit airplanes were over the German lines.

The clouds made it appear improbable that there would be any great display by the aviators and the fog seemed to hide the enemy, but flying at a height of less than 700 yards the airmen swept down on the German troops in the line and on the roads. Warplanes were attacked and dead horses and debris blocked the path of those who shortly afterward sought avenues of retreat.

"LIVE ON 24 MARKS," SAYS GOVERNMENT

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Workers of Alsace and Lorraine under 18 years of age may receive only 24 marks a week of their earnings. Everything over the prescribed amount must be deposited in a savings bank and cannot be drawn during the war except with the consent of the mayor of the municipalities in which they live.

These restrictions are only part of a system of compulsory saving devised for the young of Alsace and Lorraine and made mandatory by a decree issued by the commander-in-chief of the army group of Duke Albrecht of Wuertemberg, according to the Cologne Gazette.

BOARDS SEND OUT QUESTIONNAIRES

All of Lowell's exemption boards have sent out questionnaires to all the men in their respective divisions between 19 and 37 years of age who registered the 12th of this month for national service.

Some of the questionnaires have already been returned to the boards and in one division, Division 4, a large number of the registrants have already been classified and know just how they stand in the draft. This is considered unusually speedy work, for on past occasions it was often times a month or more before a man would know in what class he was placed after he had filled out his questionnaire.

The legal advisory board is still holding daily sessions at city hall from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. and a large number of registrants are being taken care of every day. The board will be in session until every registrant shall have had a chance to receive a voice on the filling out of the document.

DISCUSSION OF THE LOCAL FUEL PROBLEM

A conference was held between the local coal dealers and the Lowell fuel committee at the rooms of the public safety committee last evening. There were representatives present from all coal offices and the Gas company; the fuel committee was represented by Mr. J. M. O'Donoghue, chairman; A. D. Milliken and Ira M. Boothby, secretary. The meeting was entirely informal and was called for the purpose of discussing the present coal situation and the outlook for the winter. Many householders are still without coal in spite of the limited delivery order which was put into effect by the committee Sept. 1. Figures had been tabulated showing the number of applications

Camouflage

YOU may admire the cleverness of an artist who can make a motor truck look like a haystack or convert a cannon into a clump of bushes, but when it comes down to a question of CLOTHING, you want no camouflage of QUALITY.

Good woolens and quality materials are hard to get at any price. Naturally, there has been much clever camouflaging, and although shopping around may have been good policy in the past, you had better stick to the well beaten paths in clothes-buying this season, confining your inspection and selection to stores which have never wavered or wobbled in their policy of high quality—regardless of the price mark.

In selecting your new Fall Suit you had better choose wisely and well from our showing of which have been placed up to date and the number of tons applied for, as well as the number of tons delivered up to the present time. It was found by figures submitted that there were several hundred applications on which no delivery had yet been made, and as a means of aiding this situation, especially in view of the present unreasonable weather and the epidemic prevailing, it was found necessary that the amount of first delivery be cut still further in order that every home should receive some coal in the course of six to eight weeks.

During this time wood should be procured to take care of the chilly mornings and nights.

It was agreed by the Gas Co. to assist the coal dealers on the first delivery by substituting coke on some of the orders for coal. It will take a day or two before plans can be properly worked out to carry this on, but every assistance possible is promised by the Gas company.

Consumers having a boiler or furnace as a heating plant will be obliged to use egg coal or broken coal with a mixture of No. 2 nut or buckwheat if desired. No stove or No. 1 nut coal will under any circumstances be delivered for use in boiler or furnace. The delivery of stove and No. 1 nut is restricted to one ton lots. Deliveries of these two latter sizes will also be restricted from households which now have coal or coke.

This is an emergency measure and is intended to cover only the time necessary to make a delivery to every household, which will probably be for the next six or eight weeks.

It is safe to predict, however, that stove and No. 1 nut will continue to be scarce throughout the winter and consumers who have orders for these two sizes are urged to notify their dealers at once that they are ready to accept the egg size.

To further offset the shortage which is looked for a supply of soft coal should be procured at once. There are not restrictions on this kind of coal at present.

With a view of relieving the minds of people as to expected dates of delivery, a plan is to be worked out whereby each dealer will lay out his applications in lots of one week, based on his average weekly output, and will thereby be in a position to advise the customer approximately when his delivery can be expected. Consumers must realize, however, that this might vary from one week to the next, depending on the quantity of coal received by the dealer each week and also whether they are willing to accept the size coal which they should properly use under the restrictions previously referred to.

Consumers are urged to co-operate in every way possible; the dealers are doing everything they can and are willing to exert every effort in the future.

The point is now reached where the coal teamsters should exert every effort that they can. To relieve the present situation in the time stated, or as much sooner as possible, depends on the amount of deliveries made each day or each week and if delivery equipment is not in use due to teamsters being idle the amount of weekly deliveries will be that much reduced.

It is a case where everyone can and should co-operate; and it is hoped that with this co-operation on the part of all concerned that conditions will be relieved.

TWO WESTERN HORSES WIN AT COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 27.—Two Western horses, Verlie Patchen and Lillian T., won the feature races yesterday on the grand circuit, the former taking the Arch City stake purse, $3000 for 2.10 pacers, and the latter winning the 2.03 pace. Both victories were straight heat affairs.

While Verlie Patchen paced in 2:03 in her middle heat, her traveling to the half-mile pole in minute flat, the third heat showed that she was still fit to carry her extreme speed. Coming to the three-minute pole at a near two-minute clip, she killed off her pursuers and came home almost at a jog in 2:03½.

The 2:15-class trot was a long drawn-out battle. There were three different heat winners, Dell Jolia winning after five heats, Belle Alcantara, the favorite, took the 2:05 pace. The weather was chilly, and a strong breeze blew down the back stretch. Summaries:

War conditions have made the demand upon a mother's time and energy unlimited. In their zeal to do all in their power for their loved ones, they continually overwork and are soon in a nervous, run-down condition. Vinol, the non-secret cod liver and iron tonic, will build you up and make you strong.

Whitman, Mass.
"I suffered from a nervous, run-down condition and loss of strength so it was hard for me to get around and do my work. After other medicines had failed to help me Vinol restored my health and strength and I heartily recommend it to anyone suffering from a nervous, run-down condition."—Mrs. R. M. Little.

Cleveland, Ohio.
"I keep house for my husband and myself and got into a weak, run-down condition, no strength, languid and no ambition. After doctoring for awhile and getting no better I tried Vinol and to my surprise it built me up and strengthened my whole system. It is certainly a good tonic."—Mrs. Wm. D. Dawson.

Boxing Exhibition Planned

A boxing exhibition will be staged at the Y.M.C.A. Auditorium here on Thursday night, Oct. 17, when the Hingham naval training station will send boxers to compete against the best Camp Devens has to offer.

A boxing class under Charles Leonard was started last Monday, and the best man from each company is attending the school, later to become an instructor. Boxing has been found an invaluable aid in bayonet fighting.

The Hingham naval training station will send boxers in the 115, 125, 135, 145 and 155-pound classes and possibly a heavyweight also. Capt. Neilligan has planned a battle royal and may have Benny Leonard here from Camp Upton to give a sparring exhibition. The men are looking forward to this event with a great deal of interest.

Col. John B. Shuman, division adjutant, has been relieved of his duties here and is transferred to the office of the adjutant general in Washington. Maj. Frank E. Drake has been assigned as adjutant of the 28th Infantry Brigade, but detailed on special duty at division headquarters.

MUST NOT EXPECTORATE IN PUBLIC PLACES

In accordance with a decision reached at the influenza conference at city hall yesterday, Mayor Perry D. Thompson late yesterday afternoon sent the following letter to Supr. Welch of the police department in regard to the right enforcement of the law against spitting in public places:

*Sept. 25, 1918.
Redmond Welch, Superintendent of Police:

Dear Sir:—At this time during the spread of the epidemic known as influenza, I deem it advisable to call your attention to an act of the legislature, chapter 110, act of 1907, entitled, "An act to prohibit expectoration in public places and conveyances."

And to that end, I desire that you make insistence upon the members of the police department of the city of Lowell to enforce in the strictest measure this law.

This suggestion is made to you in view of a conference that I have had with the board of health of the city of Lowell, and it is the consensus of opinion of the members of the board of health that expectoration upon the public streets of the city of Lowell and in public places must at this time be stopped.

I sincerely trust that the men will give due notice to people who persist in the habit, and if they find negligent commission of the offense, that prosecution should be made.

Sincerely yours,
PERRY D. THOMPSON,
Mayor and Commissioner of Public Safety.

WILL OMIT SUNDAY SCHOOL SESSIONS

At a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Y.M.C.A. by the executive board of the Lowell Federation of Churches, it was voted to recommend to the churches of the federation that they omit the regular Sunday school sessions, and also the various young folks meetings next Sunday. This step is taken in an effort to help reduce the spreading of the influenza epidemic among the young people.

Reports of the past year's work were discussed, and tentative plans for the coming year were gone over. It was voted to allow the chairman of the va-

GERMAN GAS LOSES POWER TO TERRORIZE

LONDON, Sept. 19.—German gas does not hold the terrors it did in the earlier days of the war, as British masks provide practically complete protection. Army scientists are said to be so satisfied with the anti-gas measures that cases of gassing are now treated as self-inflicted. Unless the victim can establish that his hurt was sustained through no fault of his own, he is regarded as suffering from self-inflicted wounds.

Latest German gases are said to be not outwardly unpleasant and have no immediate effects, with the consequence that men are tempted to disregard the warnings and delay putting on the masks.

BOSTON CALLS FOR LOWELL NURSES

A call has been sent out from Boston asking the assistance of Lowell nurses in treating cases of influenza, and particularly the help of trained nurses. This request came from Dr. C. E. Simpson, of the state board of health, through Mrs. Butler Ames who has had charge of the recruiting of nurses during the past few months. It is understood that nurses volunteering their services will be paid. All those who have completed the Red Cross course in first aid or the home nursing course are eligible and should notify war work headquarters at 119 Merrimack street.

EXAMINE DRAFTEES AS SOON AS CLASSED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Provost Marshal General Crowder yesterday instructed local draft boards throughout the country to call draft registrants for physical examination as soon as they have been placed in Class I, by their boards, even though they may have appealed for re-classification to the district board. The examination will be postponed only in case there is also pending a claim for deferred classification on industrial grounds.

"A teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin each night at bedtime has done me a world of good, as I am 62 years old and was getting badly constipated. I had previously taken a lot of salts and pills without real relief."

(From a letter to Dr. Caldwell written by Mr. A. Forester, Princess Anne, Md.)

Constipation is one of the penalties of age that should never be neglected—Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that relieves constipation in an easy, natural manner, without gripping or strain, and is as positive in its effect as it is mild and gentle in its action.

CHANGES IN WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION LAW

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Sept. 27.—Numerous changes in the workmen's compensation law will be demanded of the next legislature by organized labor, all tending to give injured workers greater benefits and advantages.

Yesterday several representatives of labor appeared before the recess committee on workmen's compensation and accident prevention and outlined the changes which will be asked, and requested that the committee incorporate them in its report.

James Wasey of Fall River, representing the textile council, asked for increases in the minimum and maximum weekly payments permitted under the act. He contended that the present minimum of $5 per week is too little for any person to live on, especially during a period of sickness, while the $14 maximum is a severe hardship upon mechanics who at present are receiving in some instances, as much as $50 in wages. He urged that both amounts should be increased in substantially the same proportion that the cost of living has increased in the past two years.

Another suggestion made by Mr. Tansy was that every injured workman should receive medical and surgical attention throughout his period of disability, the law at present requiring this service for only two weeks. Many companies, he said, make it a practice to continue the service as long as it is necessary, but injured persons are frequently humiliated by being told that it is a favor granted by the company, rather than a matter of right.

In the interest of accident prevention, he asked for the passage of a law to prohibit crowding machinery to such an extent that employees are not given sufficient room for their necessary movements.

James Whitehead of Fall River, representing the Weavers' association, asked for a reduction in the waiting period, suggesting that if disability continues for seven days or more, compensation should be paid from the day of injury. The present law provides a ten-day waiting period, with the result that an injured workman receives no compensation until the 16th or 17th day after his injury.

He also requested that a law be passed making it a criminal offense for any person to leave dangerous machinery unguarded. At present too many employers feel that they have fulfilled all their obligations when they have paid premiums to the insurance company. In case of accident, he said, the employer should be sent to jail if it can be shown that he was in any way negligent.

Another recommendation was that the state establish a fund for settling all workmen's compensation claims, and exclude the private insurance companies. "The private companies," he said, "are not in business for love; they handle this business only because they can make a profit out of it, and representatives of labor feel strongly that no one should be allowed to profit through injuries to workmen."

He pointed out that there are all over the commonwealth persons who were injured several years ago, before the benefits were increased, and who are accordingly not receiving as much as they should. In Fall River, he said, there are two cases, one a woman who had been paid $10 per week before she met with an accident which left her disabled for life. Accordingly she is being paid half of that wage, $5 per week, instead of the $6.67 she should receive under the increased benefits. Chairman Cavanaugh pointed out, however, that under the constitution it would be impossible to pass a law increasing the benefits for injuries which occurred before the passage of the law.

RHEUMATISM A DISEASE OF THE BLOOD

This Woonsocket School Teacher
Tells How He Found Relief
From Pain

Many rheumatic people suffer pains that could be avoided by building up the blood. When rheumatism is associated with thin blood the rheumatism cannot be corrected until the blood is built up.

Mr. William S. Bell, of No. 60 Bernice avenue, Woonsocket, R.I., tried electrical treatment for his rheumatism but as the trouble was in the blood he did not find relief until he built up his blood by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mr. Bell, who is a teacher, says: "I suffered from rheumatism for four years. The pain started in my shoulder and ran down to my elbow. At times it was dull and aching in character and at other times the pain was sharp and shooting. My shoulder was sore and my arm at times stiff and so helpless that my wife would have to help me on with my coat."

"I received so much benefit from a thorough treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that I think it my duty to make this statement."

"We have used another of Dr. Williams' preparations, Baby's Own Tablets, in our family for a number of years and I think them an excellent remedy for children."

The purpose of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is to build up the blood. They do this one thing and they do it well. They are for this reason an invaluable remedy in diseases arising from bad or deficient blood, as rheumatism, neuralgia, after effects of the grip and fevers. The pills are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any harmful drug and cannot injure the most delicate system.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be mailed free to any address upon request.—Adv.

VICTIMS OF BURNS AT HOSPITAL

Miss Nellie Wasilek of 61 John street, received such severe burns from the flames of the gasoline which broke out from her machine at the United States Cartridge Co., yesterday that it was necessary to remove her to St. John's hospital. The accident occurred late in the afternoon, and first aid was speedily administered, after which the company ambulance hurried her to the hospital. She was severely burned on both arms, right thigh, and right side. She was reported today to be resting comfortably, and it is believed her injuries will not prove serious.

Another case of gasoline burns now at the hospital is that of William Lancotti, whose home is in Chelmsford Centre, but who has for some time been staying with relatives on Osgood street. In helping repair an automobile, Lancotti's hands and arms were badly burned. His condition today was reported as not serious. He was until lately employed at the Filling Shoe Co.

GERMAN ADMIRAL UNLOADS MORE VISIONS OF FUTURE ON NAVY LEAGUERS

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 27.—"We must be victorious if we are not to perish politically and economically," Grand Admiral von Koester, former commander-in-chief of the German fleet, declared in a speech to the German Navy League at Dortmund, a Berlin message reports.

"After the war," he continued, "our ships in large numbers must traverse the ocean and we must have colonies, with strong points to support. We want free trade on the seas and we will only get that under the protection of the German fleet."

He enlivened the speech with a means of victory, declaring: "As nature needs storms, as God has given beasts teeth and claws, man also needs the sword."

Referring to the proposed league of nations, he said that Germany would only have the role of a Cinderella in it.

MAINE TO CUT ICE BUT NOT FOR N. Y.

GARDINER, Me., Sept. 27.—Indications are not a pound of natural ice will be cut on Maine rivers and ponds the coming winter for shipment. All ice harvested will be for local consumption. For the past 10 years the ice industry of Maine has been declining. Each winter has seen part of the crop harvested for shipment to New York and other large places.

The war has, in a way, made troubles for the artificial ice men by causing a shortage of ammonia, essential in the manufacture of ice. The lack of storage capacity in this state is a hindrance, while a still greater one is the inadequate shipping facilities.

KAISER SOUGHT CELLAR

He Came to Soothe Scared
Mannheim Folks, but British Airmen Scare Him Too

GENEVA, Thursday, Sept. 27.—Emperor William, Field Marshal Duke Albrecht of Wurttemberg and Prince Stephen of Schaumburg-Lippe, were in Mannheim last week, when British airmen rained the city. The royal party, according to Democratic of Geneva, was staying in the royal palace and the emperor and his staff promptly took refuge in the cellar, remaining there 20 minutes. The palace was not hit, as it had been during a previous raid, but bombs fell in the vicinity.

The party spent last week in Alsace-Lorraine, stopping at the chief Rhine towns. Military hospitals generally were visited and public ceremonies were avoided.

The object of the visit, the newspaper adds, was to appease the unrest of the population owing to the approach to the frontier of allies armies and the constant aerial bombing.

The local evening newspaper is the paper that reaches the home when the whole family is there to read it. The Sun fills this field in Lowell.

The Many Mysteries of Nature

BY L. W. BOWER, M. D.

You can take an onion seed and a pansy seed, and plant them side by side in the same spot of ground. In one case, you get an onion, with its peculiar strong odor, and in the other you get a flower of rare beauty. You can plant a puppy seed and get opium (a dangerous, habit-forming drug,) or you can plant a rhubarb seed and get something that helps constipation. No scientist, living or dead, can explain these mysterious laws of Nature. Behind the invisible life germ in each seed is hidden the deep secret that nobody understands. Everything growing out of the ground seems intended for some use in establishing natural conditions. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, N. Y., long since found out what is naturally best for women's diseases. He learned it all through treating thousands of cases. The result of his studies was a medicine called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine is made of vegetable growths that nature surely intended for backache, headache, weakening drains, bearing-down pains, periodical irregularities, pelvic inflammations, and for the many disorders common to women in all ages of life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is made of lady's slipper root, black cohosh root, unicorn root, blue cohosh root, and Oregon grape root. Women who take this standard remedy know that in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they are getting a safe woman's tonic so good that druggists everywhere sell it.

Favorite Prescription should have the full confidence of every woman in America, because it contains no alcohol and no narcotic. Dr. Pierce knew, when he first made this standard medicine, that whiskey and morphine are injurious, and so he has always kept them out of his remedies. Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package Tablets.—Adv.

DOCTORS MAKE IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

They Take the Public In Their Confidence

Reliable physicians believe that broken down nerve tissues need not a brace but a builder like Phosphates and Iron. To get these essential food tones to the nerves has long been the big question.

A successful physician says "Phosphated Iron is an especially adapted discovery that has solved the problem of giving Phosphates and Iron in such a way that the nervous system can actually take hold of it.

Another, an equally important mission of Phosphated Iron is to build up anaemic (thin, weak, watery) blood by charging it with good health-giving iron.

A leading doctor says, "Phosphated Iron is the best iron tonic that I have ever prescribed, its results are remarkable.

Strengthening the nerves, building up their starved tissues and recharging weak, watery blood with the great health restoratives, Iron and Phosphates is the mission of Phosphated Iron. You who are nervous, weak, anaemic (lack of iron in the blood) all in, and run down cannot afford to turn down the help that Phosphated Iron offers.

Specialists in treating physicians and their patients receiving the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put up in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to substitute pills or tablets, insist on the genuine, in capsules only. Fred Howard, Lowell Pharmacy and leading druggists everywhere.

WOMEN IN THE WAR

WOMEN HELPED SAVE MARYLAND TOMATOES

Appeals for women to help in gathering the tomato crop in Maryland brought many recruits to the land army units at Fallston and Catonsville. It was found impossible to procure men, when so many industries are taking on employees for the autumn and when the draft quotas are increasing the shortage.

WOMEN MAKE TANKS FOR BRITISH ARMY

British women are now making tanks for the army. In one factory every operation in the whole process of construction is carried on by women and in many others they are employed on various parts. They are also making good in many varieties of shipyard work and in blast furnaces, brickyards and splinter works. A foreman in charge of a blast furnace is quoted as saying that he would be willing to undertake any form of ferroconcrete work with only women as his assistants.

WOMEN WORKERS ARE INSPECTING RIFLES

Seventy-three women, 29 of whom are engaged in the important work of inspection, are employed with the 1436 men comprising the force at the new Symington-Anderson gunshop at Rochester, N. Y.

This factory is turning out completed American and French 75-millimeter guns and 6-inch trench mortars, and has been in operation since early spring. It is one of the 16 plants constructed by the ordnance department for the manufacture of mobile artillery cannon.

Women operate the machines which run test bars from the steel forgings after they have been treated by heat.

They also operate the machine in which these bars are subjected to a breaking test to determine that texture and quality of the product and its fitness to go into guns.

CHICAGO GIRLS ACT AS W.S.S. GUNNERS

Three hundred women were selected to "man" 12 small cannon which were fired to announce the opening of Pershing week in the Chicago war savings drive. These women fired the cannon at stated intervals in the downtown district of the city.

LOUISIANA INVITES YOU TO COME SOUTH

Hundreds of women are wanted by the factories of Louisiana, according to Mrs. Olivia Blanchard, director of the women's division, United States employment bureau at New Orleans.

"The shrimp factories offer good pay and whole families might go to them," said Mrs. Blanchard. "After the shrimps are canned the oyster season will begin. Transportation is furnished. Surroundings in many of the factories are good."

"Shoe factories are in need of women, too. They offer from $10, $12 to $15 a week, and women who prove efficient can make $20."

MEXICAN LABOR WILL HARVEST U. S. RICE

CITY OF MEXICO, Sept.—Mexican labor, which may now as a war emergency measure enter the United States, through the action of the secretary of labor, will have an important task in the harvest of the rice crop in the southern states—a crop that is said to be the largest ever known.

According to information received from many sections in the south, the labor situation so far as the rice crop is concerned, makes the advent of the Mexicans most welcome. In some places so many men have been called to the colors, or have enlisted voluntarily, that without Mexican labor it is feared much of the crop might be lost.

The department of labor has permitted the coming of Mexicans to ports along the gulf and to Atlantic ports as far north as Charleston. They are men who are familiar with farming conditions in semi-tropical districts and will be the most satisfactory labor supply that could be found for the south, in the opinion of men from that section of the country.

Next season it is expected that the Mexicans will be given a larger share in the agriculture of the country, for they will be available for all next season's farm crops in the south. Porto Ricans will also be brought to this country, as will natives of the Bahamas, but these islanders will be used principally in shipyards or on sugar plantations.

COTTAGE CHEESE RECIPES

NUT LOAF—Use below recipe, omitting the peanut meats and adding one-half cup walnut or native nut meats cut up too fine. Pack in cake tin and bake in moderately hot oven until top is brown. Serve with mushroom, tomato, or brown sauce, or use as sandwich filling or sliced cold.

CAMOUFLAGE SAUSAGE—In one bowl mix one cup Cottage Cheese, one-quarter cup peanut butter, two tablespoonsfuls melted butter, one tablespoonful minced raw onion. In another bowl mix one cup dry bread crumbs, one-quarter cup peanuts cut not very fine, one teaspoonful salt, one-half teaspoonful sage (rounded), one-half teaspoonful thyme, one-quarter teaspoonful black pepper. Work contents of two bowls together, shaped into small cakes, roll in yellow corn meal, and cook quickly in little fat in hot sauce-pan.

COTTAGE CHEESE ROLLS—Take portion of firm peanut butter about size and shape of little finger, cover it with Cottage Cheese about a quarter of an inch thick, place in nest of lettuce leaves and serve with Russian or mayonnaise dressing. A pruned stuffed with peanut butter may be substituted for the insert, giving an egg-shaped exterior. In which case, three should be used in the nest and the mayonnaise placed in a yellow mass in the centre.

TOASTED SANDWICH—Cut two slices of bread three-eighths of an inch thick, and put between the slices a layer of Cottage Cheese of the same thickness. The addition of pimento improves this dish. When the sandwich is completed, dip in beaten egg and toast quickly in hot fat or butter. Cut diagonally and serve with a slice of raw tomato on each section.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Stamping out of Spanish influenza which has extended to more than a score of army camps and many sections of the country has been recognized by the government as a war measure.

Medical and nursing units today were mobilized in communities where the epidemic has gained considerable headway under the general direction of a central committee representing the public health service, the army, the navy and the American Red Cross.

Immediate relief for the localities where influenza has gone beyond control of the local authorities will be the main task of the committee.

Home defense units will be organized with such nurses as may be spared from other duties, and each unit placed at the disposal of the central committee.

Where local funds and buildings are not available, these will be obtained by the Red Cross, which also will open emergency hospitals.

Some concern has been felt at public health service headquarters over the spread of the epidemic in Massachusetts and other New England states.

Steps already have been taken to provide relief by the organization of nursing and medical forces there, under the personal supervision of a representative of the committee.

"The main thing to be done," it was said at Surgeon General Rupert Blue's office, "is to mobilize such forces as are available in the localities affected and to carry forward relief work under one general direction, as outlined at the conference yesterday. The stamping out of influenza is a war measure and for that reason the Red Cross is prepared to offer substantial help."

Masks of thin gauze and composed of four layers of the cloth are being provided for the convalescent soldiers of the Walter Reed hospital here, to prevent a spread of Spanish influenza. The hospital is under the management of the war department.

One hundred masks have been supplied by the district chapter of the Red Cross, and several hundred more are being made. Not less than 45,000 will be manufactured this fall. Mrs. Lansing, wife of the secretary of state, and Mrs. McAdoo, wife of the secretary of the treasury, have promised to supply 1,300.

So far as known this is the first instance in which masks have been employed as a preventive to the spread of contagious disease.

PUNISH VIOLATORS OF FOOD RULES

BOSTON, Sept. 27.—The Brennan Grain company of Chelsea has been forbidden by the United States food administration to sell any more flour until after Jan. 1 next, and it may then sell only in the event that it obtains a license from the food administration.

This action has been taken upon recommendation of State Food Administrator Henry B. Endicott, who found the firm had been selling for $12 and $14 per barrel flour, which cost them only $10.80 per barrel, the sales frequently being made without substitutes, and that it bought a carload of flour after being forbidden to buy or sell until its accounts had been straightened out.

The Suffolk county food administration has taken over 160 pounds of sugar which were found on the premises of J. B. Meelia, owner of a saloon at 124 Bedford street, this city. As a result of the discovery, Meelia voluntarily contributed $25 to the Red Cross. Nicholas Apostolis, who conducts a produce store at 21½ Faneuil hall market, will be required to post conspicuously in his place of business, a notice that he violated the rules of the food administration by selling 100 pounds of sugar in one lot. Apostolis was also required to surrender to the food administrator all of the sugar he had on hand.

The national food administration has also approved recommendations made by Mr. Endicott with reference to J. and L. Springer, who conduct stores at 6 Cotting street and 85 Brighton street, Boston. Mr. Endicott recommended that they be placed on an unfair list for the duration of the war, unless they at once place in the hands of the food administration all sugar now on hand, agree to sell no sugar prior to January 1 next, post signs admitting that they have violated the rules and that no further sales of flour be made until substitutes in sufficient quantity be purchased.

DOUGHNUT DAY TO RAISE WAR FUNDS

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Plans for a national "doughnut day," on which the "trench doughnut," as served by the Salvation Army workers to American soldiers overseas, will be introduced to the public at home, were announced here last night by the united war work campaign committee.

Salvation Army workers will cook the doughnuts in huge kettles on street corners and will sell them, red hot, for one dollar each—enough, according to the committee, to furnish 42 doughnuts for soldiers overseas.

Every housewife in the country who knows how to make doughnuts will be asked to turn out a batch on "doughnut day," the date of which has not yet been fixed.

"Doughnut day" is expected to net the committee "at least a couple of millions" of the $170,000,000 sought for the seven big war organizations.

Tomorrow night, the last dancing party of the season will be held at Lakeview park, and you want to be there to wind up the season right and get in shape for the indoor dancing season. Miner-Doyles 10-piece orchestra and Jimmie Lyons will be there.

BUDY BEE'S GOOD FORM
Car windows are notoriously hard to close and open. Gentlemen who notice a woman passenger of the car struggling with a window are privileged to offer her their assistance and superior strength. The man nearest to the woman passenger should adjust the window to suit her wishes, but if he does not offer any other man near her may go to her aid. In cars having inside or hot racks above the seats it is courteous for a man to assist a woman in disposing of her parcels in the rack.

Her Liberty Loan

By Mrs. Fay R. Hunt, East Greenwich, R. I.

I steal to the crib where my baby lies sleeping,
And see the sweet lips and hear the soft sigh.
I see the fresh life in the cheeks rosy blush-
ing
And breathe a low prayer—"God bless him! My boy!"

I see a fair youth in the ranks proudly marching.
Alert is his step and keen is his eye.
No other 'midst all is so manly and daring
And still comes the prayer—"God bless him! My boy!"

I steal to the field where the soldiers lie bleeding
And lift a cold form with an agonized cry.
Lo here! Take my gift toward the world's greatest healing!
He died for the right—"God bless
him! My boy!"

PULLED GUN ON LUNCH CART PROPRIETOR

Daniel McCarty of Boston pulled a gun on the proprietor of a lunch cart near the Middlesex street depot last night, because the chef there was unable to serve him a delicacy known as a "fried frankfort." The "gunman" was arraigned in police court today and the proprietor of the lunch cart testified that the defendant came into his place during the evening and asked for a fried frankfort. The chef explained to him that due to some unforeseen occurrence, he did not have the necessary ingredients with which to compound that particular brand of sandwich, and asked if he could serve him with something else. McIntyre, who, it was alleged, seemed to be slightly under the influence of liquor, replied that he had given his order, and would stick around until he was served. The proprietor took a hand here, and suggested that McIntyre take himself outside. Defendant in answer pointed a revolver at the proprietor and reiterated his intention of getting his "fried frankfort."

The result was that McIntyre was escorted to the station by a police officer, and this morning pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness and unlawfully carrying a pistol. For the latter he was fined $50, and the drunkenness charge was filed. Judge Pickman ordered him continued in the sum of $200 until tomorrow to give him

The boys have "come through," as Americans always do, at the Marne, Chateau Thierry, Seicheprey and St. Mihiel.

They are doing their part—the hardest part—and now again we have the privilege of doing ours, puny in comparison, by subscribing to the Fourth Liberty Loan.

Make every dollar you can possibly spare a fighting dollar—lend your money to the Government to wage humanity's greatest crusade.

RAILROADERS' WOUNDED TO HAVE HOME

Railroad men have found a new way to "do their bit" in the war and for the men who return from France wounded and sick. They are raising a large fund to establish a convalescent home for wounded soldiers and sailors who were before enlistment connected with railroad operation, and hope soon to have a sufficient amount for the purpose.

The home will be located on the Double Header Ranch, just at the foot of Double Header mountain, from which it takes its name. Guy Adams, chairman of the mail transportation committee for the railroad administration and traffic manager of the Union Pacific, gave 40 acres of the ranch for the purpose to the Railroad Men's Mountain Home association, of which he is one of the trustees.

The site for the home is 32 miles west of Denver and 16 miles up Turkey Creek Canyon from Morrison station. The ranch as a whole comprises 160 acres, and has seven fine springs of clear water.

For business reasons he had to come without delay.

GASOLINE SAVING
MUST BE EXTENDED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Sunday gasoline saving must be extended before long if America is to maintain the vast motor transport service now being organized under Col. C. B. Drake.

This was the warning of prominent war department authorities yesterday, who pointed out that the speed and effectiveness of motor transport may wrest a victory out of a well-nigh impossible situation oftentimes.

A half million gallons of gasoline daily are required for our present motor transport service. This amount will be more than doubled by spring, and there must be ample reserve on hand.

Camps for training of motor transport men will be opened at once at Jacksonville, Fla., and Fort Sheridan, Chicago, while 10 others will be started soon.

REPUDIATE FEDERAL
CONTROL APPEAL

AYER, Sept. 27.—"The people of Ayer have been made to look ridiculous and, to a certain degree, unpatriotic through the actions of a small clique of outsiders who are making money from the men at the camp and who call themselves citizens of Ayer."

This was a statement made to newspapermen yesterday by citizens who claim they have been misrepresented by the "clique" referred to. The published statement to the effect that citizens of Ayer were getting up a petition to the war department to take over the administration of the town has raised a tempest here. Citizens who signed the circular letter, that was to be distributed at the camp, declare they knew nothing of the petition that was to go to the war department.

George H. Brown, merchant of Ayer, declared yesterday that when he signed the letter distributed at Camp Devens, he did not intend it as a criticism of the local authorities; that he is not in favor of martial law nor the taking over of the town by the government. He said his position was misrepresented.

Mr. Brown said he knew nothing of the petition and would withdraw his name from the circular letter. The same stand was taken by J. J. Barry, J. M. Markham and J. M. Bulger.

"The statements in today's papers made us look like disloyal citizens, which we are not," they said. "This whole matter is the work of outsiders, who opened stores here since the camp came. We wish it understood that we repudiate the stand they have taken. We will stand by any action deemed necessary by our local administration, which is not in need of outside help."

MAMMOTH FLY WHEEL

Notice has been received of the completion of one of the largest wood rim fly wheels in the country, by the firm of W. W. Carey Co., of Lowell. This mammoth wheel will be delivered to the American Printing Co., of Fall River, at an early date. Three carloads of two-inch white pine lumber, three barrels of glue and 18 kegs of cement coated nails were required to assemble this monster, the dimensions of which are 25 feet and six inches in diameter and 15 feet 4 inch face. It carries four bolts, two being 41 inch and the others 38 and 50-inch respectively.

The war has taught one important thing to those who are willing to learn. It has made things cost more; and when we pay more for a thing we're apt to be more particular to know what we're getting. The war has taught that good quality pays in economy, though we have to pay more to get it.

Be patriotic about buying clothes

You may not need new clothes this fall; if you can get along with what you have, save the money for Liberty Bonds or War Savings Stamps. If you have to buy, remember this:

You don't buy anything in which quality is more important than clothes; you ought to be very particular about what you get for your money, especially because it's so easy to make poor quality in clothes look very good, and there's plenty of poor quality to be had.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are one of the ways in which we serve; all-wool fabrics, the best of tailoring, the most distinguished style; clothes that you can rely on, absolutely. Such clothes as these, made carefully for service, are the best means of saving money for yourself and resources for the country.

THE NEW STYLES ARE ECONOMICAL

In regard to style, you'll find that they are as smart looking as ever; but there's greater simplicity in them, and everything has been designed to save materials and labor. You'll like the new models we're sure; we have many good things to show you.

FIGHTING THE EPIDEMIC

In response to the appeal of the Boston Emergency Public Health committee, radical measures are being taken all over the state, to check the spread of the influenza epidemic. The situation has become so alarming that the closing of schools, theatres and all places of public assembly is recommended as an essential preventive measure.

It is of no use to close the schools if the children flock to the picture shows, and tattle to close the theatres if other assemblies equally dangerous are attended. Unless the people co-operate with the public health authorities, these preventive measures will be futile.

Yesterday the total number of cases of influenza in this city was 619, and 125 new cases were reported during the day.

This indicates that the epidemic is rapidly spreading although it is alleged that there are hundreds of cases throughout the city that have not been reported. Many of the latter have not been brought to the attention of any doctor and some doctors, it is alleged have failed to report all the cases they have treated.

The fact is, that the doctors are overworked. The majority of them have not had time either to sleep or to eat since the epidemic started. Some of them are on the verge of collapse from sheer exhaustion due to overwork and lack of sleep. Thus far, it has not been deemed advisable to quarantine the houses in which the influenza patients reside, nor would a quarantine serve any useful purpose. Indeed it might do harm instead of good, by stopping the ordinary intercourse among neighbors and thus allowing many patients to die through neglect. Commissioner Kelley of the state board of health advises the people to wear warm clothing, to get as much fresh air and sunshine as possible, to maintain the best possible physical condition and to avoid every source of infection. As the disease germs are carried in the air, they must enter the system through the nose and throat. To minimize the danger of such infection, it is well to wash the nasal passages and the throat regularly with some mild antiseptic.

Already the disease has spread over 26 states of this country and there is little prospect of its subsidence. It is so widespread that no local effort can check its general progress. Every community must, therefore, provide for its own safety as far as that may be possible in fighting this dangerous epidemic.

GASLESS SUNDAYS

Weep no more over gasless Sundays, and sit not idly at home and condemn the fuel administration for depriving you of the pleasure of getting into the country on the one day in the week when you have leisure.

Within a short distance from the heart of every city there are regions to be explored which can be reached by trolley and on foot, as well worth the effort as the distant points to which you have motored each Sunday before the gas ban fell.

A bit of woods, a stretch of lake front, the course of a winding brook, or a noble river like our own Merrimack, will furnish a refreshing change of scenery, and the physical effort involved will bring you back with a healthy flush of the cheek and a brighter eye.

Fall days in the country are fine days despite the occasional rainfall. It is delightful to wander through fields which have yielded rich harvest, forests whose leaves are beginning to show the gold and crimson hues of autumn, and through upland and low-land giving rest to the forest-shortened city vision.

Within easy reach of Lowell are many beautiful places which the motorists know not of and which they will visit while the car is getting a much needed rest and gasoline is being saved to furnish power for the tanks that move against the Huns.

To explore on foot some of these bits of Nature's grandeur, would be a new and healthful experience that will prove far more beneficial than the speeding over highways where the eye gets but a passing glance at the scenery and the ear is assailed with the perpetual blunk! Honk! of the countless cars that go whizzing past.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND

Like the fall of a great oak in the forest is the death of Archbishop Ireland who since Civil war days had been a commanding national figure, a great power for good in every phase of American life, the foe of intemperance, a sterling patriot and always a true American.

Archbishop John Ireland was known for many years as "The Father Matthew of the West," so strong was his advocacy of total abstinence. In the Civil war, as in the Spanish-American war, he proved his ardent patriotism and when the United States entered the present struggle, in his feeble health, with all the fervor left in his soul, he came out to inspire his people with enthusiasm in support of the government, reminding them that they were first of all Americans and that they must stand ready to make any sacrifice which the government might deem necessary.

He had set before himself the task of extending the influence of the Catholic religion over America and of solving the all-absorbing moral questions with which religion is confronted. As a great churchman, a patriot and man of profound learning, Archbishop Ireland was recognized even by secular institutions as when Yale university conferred upon him a honorary degree, and when France selected him to deliver the Joan of Arc oration. He was also honored by President McKinley when chosen to represent the United States in presenting to France the statue of Lafayette. Perhaps no man of his day in this country, with the exception of Cardinal Gibbons, exerted a more wholesome influence on his country and his age than did Archbishop Ireland. In politics he was a staunch republican; but where moral issues entered into politics, he stood for what he believed to be right, in the conviction that even a moral and desirable end should never be advanced by immoral means or methods.

Coming so soon after the death of Cardinal Farley, the passing of this great prelate is a serious loss to the Catholic church in which he had been a most zealous, able and devout exponent.

PREFERS BRIDE TO THRONE

The crown prince of Rumania having married the daughter of a major in the Rumanian army, in reply to threats of losing the dynastic succession, has declared that in these times, thrones are so unstable that he would prefer the certainty of having the wife he wants to the chance of becoming king of Rumania.

He has been sentenced to solitary confinement by his father, King Ferdinand, on the ground that he deserted his command without permission. As he has gone to Bessarabia to spend his honeymoon, the solitary confinement sentence is not likely to take effect, at least for some time; and as Queen Marie is not so desperately opposed to the marriage, it is not unlikely that the king may be persuaded that in this morganatic marriage, the young prince is helping to prepare the throne for the era of democracy that is to follow this war. But the prince who prefers his freedom in choosing a wife to the promise of a tottering throne, is to be applauded for his good sense.

REPUBLICAN CAMOUFLAGE

Republican newspapers have already set out to discredit the candidacy of Richard H. Long and to reflect upon the methods by which he secured the nomination. They affect to have great sympathy for Col. Gaston and for Mr. Barry; but had either of the latter won, these papers would similarly be sympathizing with the defeated candidates and equally reflecting upon the methods by which the successful candidate won the nomination. Democrats must not be misled by this form of camouflage. It is the republican plan of spreading dissension in the ranks of the democracy. Such tactics, however, will not avail to turn democrats from their duty to their party or their determination to sustain the administration at Washington by supporting the candidates who have stood by the president, rather than those who have been trying to block his progress in the prosecution of the war.

We expect to find Col. Gaston and Edward P. Barry playing the part of good and loyal democrats in helping to elect Mr. Long. If the democrats of the state do their full duty, Mr. Long will be the next governor of Massachusetts.

As the republicans are thus early trying to drive a wedge into the Long salient, it may be assumed that they will adopt several turning movements; but these, we believe, will be effectually blocked by the barrage of Long's artillery.

SEEN AND HEARD

"Buy-a-bond" isn't enough, if you can buy two.

The brightly lighted house isn't a torch of liberty. It's a fuel waster.

Turks and Bulgars are beginning to wake up to the fact that they lined up with losers.

Liberty bonds not only will win the war, but will be foundations for thousands of home savings funds.

If he spoke truthfully the Kaiser would call his present loan a German Defeat Loan—not a "Victory (?) loan."

In Palestine, in Macedonia, in Italy and in France they are laying the foundation for Freedom for All, Forever.

The Christmas gift limit for Yanks over there won't keep them from garnering all the Hun helmets they can get their hands on.

Genuine Two Step

"This hush whiskey one gets in some foam dispensaries round hush's real genu-whine two step," remarked a negro doughboy after experimenting in a London drink emporium. "You steps in and has one and you steps out and gets pinched. I had one on Saturday, went into Trafalgar square and, bullseye me, bo, old Nelson atop of his column was triplets to me."

Bet on Brindie

Parade service was interrupted by a dog fight in one of the older divisions in France one day. The padre was a good sportsman, and therefore popular with the boys. "We will abandon the service until this afternoon," he announced, "but if any one wants to bet, I'll have half a crown on the brindie."

American Stories

American stories are having great vogue in England. This one is going the rounds, told by the Yankee soldiers to their English associates: A boy applied for a position at a provision shop. "Can you dress a chicken?" asked the proprietor. "Not on three dollars a week," answered the lad.

THE men who pay strict attention to their clothes are the ones who hit on all cylinders in the pursuit of success. They know the importance of not missing fire in a matter that counts so much as personal appearance.

To be sure of having that right, a man must wear styles that are right—and you will find them in every suit or overcoat that bears the label—

Society Brand Clothes

These styles for men are first of all authentic. That means they are always in good taste—sensible. That they are refined—not foppish. Never extreme and yet they have a distinguished way about them that makes the man who wears them look distinguished.

Society Brand styles are hand tailored into every garment, and when the style's tailored in to stay in there's no way the coat or trousers can lose shape. The cloth may get old but the style stays young.

There is nothing better in fabric, fit and workmanship. If that sounds good to you, you'll like the clothes even better. —Come in and look them over at your leisure.

The Art of Dunning

"I am tired of dunning old Powderstitch for the $30 spirits of nitre bill. The old boy is rolling in money—I'll give the account over to a collector," grumbled Sedgewick Doosem, of Doosem & Good, druggists.

The following week old Powderstitch received form 1, beginning "Honored Sir," from Steady's collection agency, requesting the settling of his spirits of nitre account.

There was no answer.

The following week he received form 2, beginning, "Sir."

There was no answer.

The following week he received form 3, beginning, "Sax, Powderstitch."

There was no answer.

The following week he received form 4, beginning, "Hey, you."

There was no answer, and the following week Ignatius Steady called in person and told old Powderstitch that Doosem & Good were about to bring suit.

"Is that your last move?" asked Powderstitch.

"Absolutely," replied Steady.

"Say no more about it. Here's a check," said old Powderstitch. "The truth of the matter is, it's the first bill I've ever owed—the idea being to find out the system of an up-to-date collection agency for the benefit of my son, who is about to start a collection bureau on his own account. Not at all! Quite welcome. Goodbye."—Detroit Free Press.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Charles J. Leathers, manager of the New England Telephone company, actually complained to me yesterday about the telephone service and while I have been always more or less an admirer of Mr. Leathers as a hustler and up-to-date business man, he added to his laurels yesterday in my estimation by acknowledging the fact that the service over which he has local control is not what it ought to be and he says influenza is responsible for it. There is no doubt but that influenza is the greatest disorganizer that has struck this country for some time and it is being felt in all quarters. Mr. Leathers said that his force is 20 per cent. less than normal and in view of the fact that this holds good in Boston and elsewhere it is little wonder that the telephone service is somewhat off color. And there probably isn't anybody in Lowell who feels as badly about it as does the local manager.

Lowell merchants are certainly doing their part in helping carry the fighting fourth Liberty loan over the top, by using their show-windows for patriotic and timely displays. In this connection let it be said that a glimpse of the Merrimack street windows of the A. G. Pollard Co. this week is well worth while.

Large American flags form the background of this display, in the center of which is a large colored map of the war zone in France, showing by means of a line of flags the different sectors which are now held by the American, French, British and Italian troops, respectively. Be it said that if our boys continue to drive ahead as they have been of late, the window-trimmer will be kept rather busy in moving the string, which represents the present battle-line, over in the general direction of Germany.

The window is crowded with photos of Lowell boys who are in the service, one of whom, Albert Vinal, having already made the supreme sacrifice. There are also many interesting relics and souvenirs from the battle-scarred fields of Flanders and Picardy, including German knives, coins, etc. That the French and American boys who are in the rear of the fighting temporarily, are not lacking in tagenuity is evidenced by the bracelets and rings displayed here, and which are the handwork of the boys' leisure moments. The bracelets were made from the exploded shell of one of the celebrated French 75's (75 millimetre gun), and the rings from the parts of the first German airplane brought down by our boys.

One of the most interesting of these work-relics is a battered German helmet, which was taken from a German prisoner by a Lowell boy who was a member of an American Infantry patrol which was out on scout duty, near the village of Exray in No Man's Land, on the night of Feb. 15. Judging from the collapsed condition of the said head-gear, Fritz's must have been mugged up some before he consented to be led to the rear. In fact, one of the dents in the top of the helmet looks very much like the trade mark of a Yankee rifle-butt.

It is an interesting study in psychology to note the credit people are prone to take to themselves for the purchase of Liberty bonds. Dars a man consult his conscience, his loyalty to the country's need of funds in its present mission, and hesitate a moment? A man should take no more credit to himself for buying bonds than he should for obeying the law, paying his bills and doing an indispensable day's work. In fact he should buy bonds in gratitude, in humility at his opportunity to help in this holy crusade for man's freedom. No duty was more sacred, none more imperative. Gold was never harnessed to such a just cause. As some one said:—All dollars which should and are not invested in bonds are pro-German.

It speaks well for the general health conditions of the community of Lowell that the number of cases of influenza in this city is comparatively so small in relation to our population. It also speaks well for the far-sightedness of the local authorities and those in charge of certain war activities to have seen the wisdom of delaying the execution of plans which involved such elaborate preparation and such considerable effort. Such an act displayed both civic spirit and patriotism. Nothing should be fostered which involves a risk of the physical well-being of the city. The creation of an emergency sub-committee by the state and an appropriation of funds to combat the disease is proper and the warming of the local schools is a necessary and wise precaution.

We are informed the best way to combat an attack—is to be well nourished, well clothed, well slept and above all to be cheerful and do a day's work.

POPE MOURNS LOSS

TO PICK SENATOR

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 27.—Nearly 800 delegates were here today to attend the republican state convention called to nominate a candidate for United States senator to fill out the unexpired term of the late Jacob H. Gallinger. George H. Moses of this city, former United States minister to Greece, and Montenegro, claimed to have pledged a majority of the delegates from every county except one. Senator Irvin W. Drew, named by Governor Keyes to fill the office until an election, was not a candidate before the convention.

LOWELL'S MORTALITY RATE

Lowell's mortality rate for the week ending Sept. 21 was considerably reduced in comparison with previous weeks. This city's rate was 13.9 and this put her 25th on a list of 44 cities, which is the lowest point she has been at for several months.

Jersey City headed the list with a percentage of 23.8; Cleveland, 21.9; Buffalo, 21.4; Toledo, 20; Pittsburgh, 24.3; Providence, 23.8; Cambridge was low with 4.9. The average was 17.3.

GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUBS WILL HAVE TO BURN WOOD OR GO
COLD

The federal fuel commission has announced that golf and country clubs must use no coal between Dec. 1, 1918, and April 1, 1919, and it looks as if these former places of comfort will present a dreary appearance this winter unless supplies of wood are obtainable. All classes of golf and country clubs are included in this ruling, and state or county fuel administrators have no authority to exempt any club from this ruling. The regular employees at the clubs may obtain small quantities of coal for their personal comfort only from the United States fuel administrator in Washington upon receipt of a certificate of necessity from the state fuel administrator.

NO BOUT TONIGHT AT THE CRESCENT A.C.

Not only must the theatre patrons be inconvenienced by the board of health mandate requiring all amusement halls, schools, etc., to keep closed doors for the remainder of the week, but the ruling has also hit the Crescent A.C. who are complying with the request, and therefore the meeting scheduled for tonight is postponed until next week.

This will be a disappointment to many fans who were looking forward to the clash between those two giant exponents of the manly art, Johnson and Langford. However, this pair will be on deck at the meeting next week, and possibly the respite thus given them will make their work all the better on the night of the battle.

Letters From Lowell Soldiers

Wagoner Hugh F. Ward of the 102d Infantry in France, has written an interesting letter to his sister here in Lowell. Wagoner Ward enlisted in Co. C, June 14, 1917, and took the usual training at Framingham and Camp Devens. From Camp Devens he was transferred to the 102d Infantry at New Haven and sailed overseas in November. He is 15 years old. The letter in part, follows: August 31, 1918.

Dear Sister: Just a few lines to let you know I am well and hope you are the same. I received your letter and was glad to hear from you. I have not had much time to write to you so I hope you will forgive me. In your last letter you spoke about the great victory. Did you know that I was in it? I suppose you are glad to hear that. The Hun's are getting it.

I hope that you are not worrying about me as I am all right. I am all at rest and will have lots of time to write to you. I am sending you a card and hope you will like it. All the Lowell boys are well, and are asking for the people at home. With love, HUGH.

Most people know why—shortage of wool—the needs of the soldiers and sailors absorbing almost the entire supply—the small balance for the rest of us.

In times like these, we're fortunate to be linked up with a house like Stein-Bloch—a house with a reputation to maintain, and the spirit and ability to maintain it. We have an ample supply of GOOD CLOTHES here—including Stein-Bloch's—all of our high standard of tailoring, and with few exceptions ALL WOOL.

Bought six months or more ago, these clothes are priced at $5.00 to $10.00 less than today's values.

Late buyers will have to take what's left or pay the advanced prices.

THE FRENCH ORPHANAGE FUND IS GROWING

In spite of the cool weather last night the big "thermometer" over the entrance of the J. L. Chalfoux Co.'s store in Merrimack street took another jump, as a result of the reading of the report of the day's work in connection with the drive for the $50,000 fund for the French-American orphanage. Although the weather was very unfavorable to say the least, nearly all the workers were on hand, and enthusiasm was the keynote of the evening. It was found that the grand total had taken a jump from $18,104 to $21,340.70, a fine showing considering the weather conditions.

Last evening's meeting was full of life and spirit, and proved that nothing, not even a rainy night, can dampen the ardor of this energetic band of workers. St. Louis and Notre Dame de Lourdes reported last night, and some of the teams of these parishes did not turn in any reports. As no news is said to be good news, it is very probable that these teams have something up their sleeves about which more will be learned later in the campaign.

Boxes for the mill campaign were distributed among the different teams who have volunteered to look after this phase of the drive. These boxes will be placed outside of the mills and shops of Lowell today and tomorrow, so that all employees will be given a chance to participate in carrying the drive up and over the top. It was announced last night that not only the Billerica carshops, which had previously stated their intention to furnish some of their own workers to take

Guard Against Influenza

Prepare Your System—Increase Your Bodily Resistance

Leading physicians are recommending various things for the people to do to guard themselves against the Spanish Influenza epidemic. They tell you to keep out of crowds, avoid being near people who are sick, get out into the sunshine, and fresh air and take plenty of exercise, get to bed early at night and take a little more sleep and rest than you usually do, eat good, nourishing, wholesome food and tone up your system.

Plenty of iron in the blood makes vitality, strength and resisting power against disease. Iron-Lax-Tonic Tablets should be taken without delay as a tonic to tone up the system and put iron into the blood. There is no supposed to be any shortage of this remedy at the present time but if you should find a drug store where you cannot get Iron-Lax-Tonic Tablets, persist until you find a store that does sell them. It will be well to keep up the treatment during the next two or three weeks. Get it today at Fred Howard's Lowell Pharmacy and Doves, the Druggist—Adv.

purposes, that Bulgaria, thoroughly weakened and sick and tired of aiding the Pan Germanic idea at the expense of an enormous loss of Bulgarian manpower, might at any time declare herself out of the war and abjectly wait to carry on negotiations with the allies in whatever manner she thought would most likely help the terrible situation into which Bulgaria has been drawn.

Herli Doctors News

Early today came news from Berlin via Copenhagen, that Premier Malmoff of Bulgaria had proposed an armistice to the allies. The Germans apparently backed on the additional fact that this offer was made without the approval and consent of Czar Ferdinand and the rest of the Bulgarian cabinet. Further the Germans added on, that Malmoff's offer had created great dissatisfaction in Bulgaria and that strong military measures have been taken to support the Bulgarian front. A despatch from Jassy says that a counter movement against the action of the premier has been set on foot and this, to the minds of some, strongly indicates, that the Bulgars may be on the point of starting a revolution if they have not indeed started one, with the news of it carefully held back by German press censorship.

The Berlin message to Copenhagen gives the first indication of any move made by Bulgaria to approach her enemies with conciliatory proposals. The message, in its bare outlines, seems to indicate that the premier had taken matters into his own hands, and attempted to initiate a peace move for Bulgaria independence of the dynasty.

A move so made might ordinarily be considered in a broad way to amount to a revolutionary act, and possibly points to the execution of a coup d'etat in Sofia.

BUILD NEW SEWER IN TILDEN STREET

A new sewer, 250 feet long, will have to be constructed to replace the one which broke last Monday evening in Tilden street near one of the buildings of the Merrimack Mfg. Co. according to Commissioner Charles J. Morse of the street department. In addition to this, 300 feet of the old sewer will have to be removed.

Commissioner Morse has transferred a considerable portion of the gang which has been working on the Varum avenue sewer to Tilden street break and today considerable progress had been made. All the water in the break had been pumped out and the men had plenty of room in which to work.

The transfer of men from the Varum avenue sewer to Tilden street will delay the former work to some extent and will interfere seriously with Mr. Morse's plans to complete the work this fall.

country was in a somewhat disorganized state with widespread discontent manifest over the prolongation of the war, in the further prosecution of which the Bulgarian people were able to see little advantage to them. There can be no doubt that the successful offensives of the allies now in progress in Macedonia has accentuated this tendency.

Malmoff, who took the premiership in June last, was friendly to the entente in the earlier stages of the war, before Bulgaria's entrance, and there have been predictions that he might in some way seek to use his influence towards extricating Bulgaria from the unenviable position which she would occupy in the event of a German defeat, which doubtless appears to him to be impending.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL REGISTRATION

The registration at the city's evening vocational schools last evening was held as announced, and in spite of the inclement weather the attendance was unusually good. Girls who had intended to register at the Morrill and Butler schools and did not do so last night may enroll at the Morrill school next Wednesday night from 7.30 to 9 p. m. This applies to all who had intended to register last night at either of the two schools.

The registration of girls at the Greenhalge school scheduled for tonight will take place as usual. Principal Fisher announced, and all who intend to join should get their names in as soon as possible.

The principal also stated that all men who have not already registered at the Mann school on Broadway will have a chance to enroll next Wednesday night.

Radio School

In referring to the work at the Mann school Mr. Fisher said, "We have 57 men already registered, and I wish to urge all those who contemplate joining to do so at once, so that provisions may be made for them before the opening, Oct. 7. The radio and buzzer classes at the Mann school will not be affected by the influenza ban, and will run as usual. The prospects for a useful and instructive season look very good at present, and we are hoping for some fine results."

COAL HOARDERS HELP THE HUNS

The coal hoarder is the person who stores up more coal in his cellar than he can use, economically, this winter. There are many in every city. Some are outright pro-Germans. Others are merely selfish Americans, more concerned about their own comfort than the nation's winning the war.

A movement already has been started to spot the coal hoarders and divide up their stores.

The Municipal Journal suggests that every city have a coal hunting party. It urges that cellars and other coal store rooms be visited and when any excess coal storing be found, the pile be taken from the hoarders.

"Cities that have not already done so should inspect every cellar and outbuilding in the town and secure a record of the amount of coal now stored in each one," says the Municipal Journal.

"Hoarding of domestic coal was practiced to a greater or less extent last year. Some cellars were found this spring to contain enough fuel to heat the house for another winter." It is proposed as a wartime measure that heating experts pass upon the coal piles of fuel hoarders and that all above the amount necessary to keep the home heated at a wartime temperature, be turned back to the dealers and resold to other home consumers.

HEATLESS ROOMS IN EVERY HOME

Heated unused rooms waste the nation's coal pile.

You help the kaiser by keeping unused rooms warm during cold weather. Bedrooms, little used during the day, need not be heated. Windows should be left open all night, and with plenty of bedclothing, and a sleeping hood if necessary, there is no need for furnace heat. Shut off those rooms from the heating plant.

Other rooms should not be heated on days or evenings they are not to be used.

In this way, fuel economists figure, the United States may help make up the shortage in coal.

"If you have a hot water heating system," advises the fuel administration, "make heavy radiator slip-covers and put them over radiators when not in use. This will prevent them from freezing."

But it is not the wisest economy to let the whole house get cold during a night. Takes too much coal next morning to heat it up, and the strain on the heating system is too great. Some rooms, those used during the day and evening should be kept moderately warm all night.

A large number of dogs are being sent from Birmingham, England, every week for service at the front. There is a special demand for airedales, bull terriers and collies.

BOSTON, Sept. 27.—Reports received by show Spanish influenza is still claiming many victims all over New England and indeed, the entire eastern part of the United States is being visited by the dread disease. New York reports a death list of 20 persons with pneumonia which it is believed developed out of lack of the influenza. This number exceeds the total number of New York deaths from influenza up to the time this report was made.

Following closely on the summary of practically all theatres and motion picture houses in Massachusetts, today Henry B. Endicott, executive secretary of the state public safety committee, and chairman of the committee, announced his committee had voted to ask all persons to stop selling soda to the public until the epidemic had subsided. This vote to be made as a request, in reality has the power of an order. No definite time has been set for an end of soda may be resumed.

PARIS, Sept. 27.—The end of the Bulgarian nation as a co-belligerent of the central powers against the allies, and the breaking of the first link in Germany's defensive chain, is indicated by news received today from the French commander-in-chief in Macedonia.

First, he reported the Bulgarians asked for a meeting to arrange conditions of an armistice and eventual peace.

He told his superiors here he had refused to suspend operations, but had told enemy representatives he would receive duly qualified delegates of the Bulgarian government.

The British government today received from an official authorized source, an application from Bulgaria for an armistice.

Mr. Parshley, a member of Post 155, G.A.R., who has lived in Lowell for the past 15 years at 135 Pinken street, says:

"I am 75 years old and for the past five years I have been troubled with indigestion and constipation so bad that my head would ache for hours at a time. The food I would eat would feel like a lump in my stomach and I would have pains all over my body. After taking the Vitalitas treatment which I heard so much about, I am pleased to say that it did wonders in my case. Now I can eat anything my fancy desires without any bad after effects. Headaches have left me and the pains in my body are gone. I think there is nothing like Vitalitas."

Take Vitalitas now and protect your system against the debilitating conditions of the long winter months to come. Nervous, run-down people, people who suffer with rheumatism, indigestion, kidney or liver ill, should take the Vitalitas treatment at once. Remember, the remedy free from alcohol or dangerous drugs. hurled the British against the German lines north of Cambrai on a front south of the Senese river.

From the new lines reached Tuesday night the American forces between the Argonne and the Meuse continue to press northward through the hilly wooded country northwest of Verdun. The Americans are well beyond the original German lines and hold important observation points along the front. A light rain fell Friday on the American sector and the weather was unfavorable for observation.

West of the Argonne to the Suippe, the French have advanced more than three and one half miles and taken and passed beyond formidable German defense points, including the famous Navarin farm, the Butte-du-Tour and the Butte-du-Mosnil. General Petain's men took more than 7000 prisoners who, with the 5000 taken by Americans, bring the allied total for the first day of the attack to 12,000.

In the Argonne forest itself, the allies apparently are making little effort to move northward. The allied command seemingly believes that the forest will be cleared automatically as the Americans and French progress on either side. Already the Germans facing the French have been outflanked on the east.

The new British attack launched Friday morning is north of the scene of the operations of the last fortnight looking to the encirclement of St. Quentin and threatens the German defenses north and west of Cambrai. South of the Senese river, the British are well within the Hindenburg line.

ESTATE WORTH $20,000

New York Man Is Seeking the Heirs of Thomas and Susan White

If there are any children or descendants of Thomas and Susan White in Lowell they can claim an estate valued at $20,000, according to a communication received this morning by Mayor Thompson from John J. Dwyer, a New York attorney. It is believed that Mr. and Mrs. White lived here at one time. The letter explains the matter in detail and is as follows:

Sept. 25, 1918.
The Mayor, Lowell, Mass.
Dear Sir: In 1861 Thomas White, a shoemaker, native of Canada, resided at Reading, Mass. He was then married, the given name of his wife being Susan. It is believed that they had three or more children and that within a few years subsequent to 1861 the family moved to Lowell.

If there are any children or descendants of Thomas and Susan White they can probably recover an estate of the approximate value of $20,000.

Anyone having any information should communicate with the undersigned at once. Yours truly,
JOHN J. DWYER,

WATERWAY CONVENTION DELEGATES HERE

Several hundred delegates from the 11th annual convention of the Atlantic Deepwater Waterways association being held in Boston this week came to Lowell today in automobiles and were the guests of Mayor Thompson for several hours. They arrived here about 10 o'clock this morning and visited a number of the local mills, including the Massachusetts and the Hamilton, under the guidance of His Honor and the officials of the industries. Later in the day the Textile school was visited.

The visitors had their machines bedecked with large pennants and made an impressive showing as they rode about the city in parade formation.

Bulgar Petition for Peace Received by British, Comes From Nation's Head

Germany Uses Strong Plea to Stop Bulgar Move, but Defeated People Ignore It

PARIS, Sept. 27.—General Franchet d'Esperey, commanding the allied armies in Macedonia, has telegraphed to the French government that a high Bulgarian officer has presented himself in behalf of General Torodov, commanding the Bulgarian army, asking the suspension of arms for 48 hours to permit the arrival of two authorized delegates from the Bulgarian government.

The minister of finance, Lianier, and General Loukot, commanding the Bulgarian second army, are on their way to the French headquarters with the assent of King Ferdinand to discuss the conditions of the armistice and eventually the terms of peace.

The French commander reports that the Bulgarian request reached him through an intermediary, the general commanding the British army in the east, forming a part of the allied command. General d'Esperey's reply therefore, asked the Bulgarian delegates to present themselves to the British lines.

Germany intends to send a solemn protest to Bulgaria against Premier Mallinoff's request for an armistice, according to Berlin reports received in Amsterdam and forwarded by the Exchange Telegraph Co.

GERMAN ILLS INCREASE

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 27.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The war has been responsible for the development of numerous ailments in Germany, asserts Professor Albu in an article in the Berlin Lokalan Zeiger. Its effects have aggravated various human ills.

There can be no doubt, he says, that many people are ageing more rapidly now owing to the worries and difficulties of daily life. People are going gray sooner. The action of the heart and blood vessels suffers. Exhaustive observations he believes, point to the fact that both at home and in the field, arterio sclerosis is a genuine war disease. "What part chronic underfeeding takes in this, we do not yet know," he adds. The increased blood pressure on the heart and the blood vessels entails many dangers.

Only in the years after the war we shall be able to gauge the full extent of this unprecedented tension which is using up human strength. Individual power of resistance of course plays a great part in organic reaction.

"The number of those who have gone through this endless war so far without any impairment of health is not large, and it is safe to say that when we come to the end, there will be few indeed who can claim perfect immunity. It seems to me, therefore, that it is the wrong policy for the authorities to place so many difficulties in the way of people who need rest, relaxation and a change of air and surroundings."

"The state," Professor Albu concludes, "and this may well apply to all belligerent nations—needs careful husbanding of human material. Public and social hygiene are faced with problems of stupendous magnitude."

To the Public:

It is important for the Public to realize at this time that the telephone service of this Company is to considerable extent impaired as a result of the prevalence of Grippe among its forces. As a result of a daily absentee list of several hundred employees the service is necessarily slower than at normal times in spite of the splendid effort of those who are capable of remaining on duty.

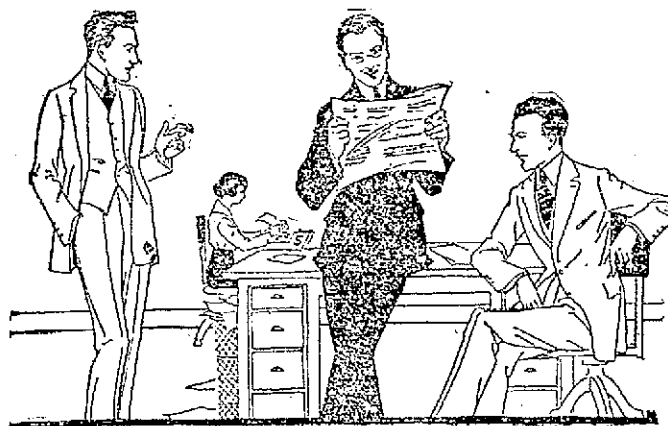

The Public can greatly aid the efforts of our operating forces in the following ways:

1. BY ELIMINATING UNNECESSARY CALLS.
2. By refraining, so far as possible, from special appeals to Chief Operators, whose entire time should in the present emergency be given to the supervision of their Central Offices.
3. By showing leniency to those still capable of remaining at work.

HUN FLYERS' FEET COLD

American Aviator Says They Insist on Staying on Their Own Side During Daylight

BY HAROLD EDWIN BECHTOL
(European Manager of Newspaper Enterprise Association).

LONDON, Sept. — Up in Belgium and Northern France, the German airmen can't be coaxed west of their own lines in daytime.

They simply won't come over on the allies' side!

Day after day, as surely as the sun rises, the allied airmen go miles and miles into Germany in broad daylight to see what the Germans are doing and to bomb military objectives.

But the only times the Hun tries to "come back" is at night, and he's growing more timid about those night raids each week.

Aside from the score of machines shot down, which is constantly sliding more and more in the allies' favor, these facts show how the war in the air is going.

British and American aviators who have come recently from the northern end of the line tell the same story. One of them, Lieutenant W. J. Armstrong of Philadelphia gave this as an illustration:

"I was one of seven American fliers

Thirty Germans Flee From Seven

"We ran into a bunch of 30 German planes. And we didn't get a chance to put in a single good shot! They just turned tail and scooted back into Germany as fast as they could go!"

Armstrong is in the American Army hospital at Dartford, England, the result of a fight he and two other American fliers had with eight German Fokkers, after an Ostend bombing raid recently. Todd and Alderman of North Carolina were the other two.

"The Germans' air policy seems to be to keep on their own side of the fence in daytime, no matter what happens," said Armstrong.

"We have to go far into Germany to find a German plane, and as for getting a fight even miles back of the line they'll generally run if the numbers are anything like equal. And often they beat it when they outnumber you three, four or five to one."

Armstrong, "just in" from France, was strolling around the grounds in a bathrobe, so I took his word for it when he told me he had "only a scratch."

"Only a scratch, eh?" laughed a friend who came up as I was about to leave. "You're a hell of a reporter!"

And thanks to this friend, I found out more about Armstrong.

His "scratch" amounted to 11 stitches in the right arm and four in the back. One bullet each, but they lodged, and had to be cut out.

Bring Three Huns Down

This is how he got them:

Thirteen bombers, and 13 scouts to protect them, set out from an American air base to bomb Ostend in daylight. Returning, Armstrong, Todd and Alderman, three of the fighters, were flying above the others.

They got separated and eight Germans appeared, right above the American trio. The Americans fought, meantime drawing the Germans toward other American bunch.

Armstrong stopped two bullets Alderman's gun jammed, but by time the rest of the Americans were speeding up and two Hun planes accounted for before they got away.

"Did you shoot down either of two Germans?" I asked Armstrong. "No," he said.

"No, neither of those," corrected friend. "But he has downed a Hun, and this is the first time the kinged him."

An extraordinary rifle shot has discovered in Private Pierre Flom an Indian soldier at Camp Dix. He had little experience with a rifle, the first day he made a perfect score of 50 points, and he has repeated feat time after time on all ranges from 100 to 50 yards, and rarely his score fallen below 48. He can outline of his profile in bullet holes at 200 yards.

and on ground untouched previously by heavy fighting.

East of Cambrail, just west of the German line the new operation probably is planned to outflank the Hindenburg position from Cambrail to St. Quentin. The Franco-American thrust further south is aimed against the communications behind this front.

Serbian troops at the apex of the advancing allied salient in Macedonia have advanced more than 55 miles from their original positions. The important base of Ishtib has been occupied and the Serbs are fighting for Velea. Northeast of Ishtib, Serbian cavalry is pressing rapidly toward the Bulgarian border.

Baker Seen Start

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE CHAMPAGNE FRONT, Thursday, Sept. 26, 5.30 p. m.—(By The Associated Press.)—Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, witnessed the beginning of the American drive along the front north-west of Verdun this morning. At 5.30 o'clock, after the enemy positions had been bombarded with high explosives and gas shells, the American infantry advanced.

Squadrons of tanks again formed an effective part of the attacking forces especially in the region of Cheppy. These "land battleships" moved up with the infantry, smashing down wire entanglements and routing the enemy from machine gun nests. The work of the American airplanes was one of the features of the combat. An aerial barrier was maintained over the line, preventing the enemy from observing the movements of the troops. In spite of the fog, the airmen swooped low over the enemy trenches and materially assisted the advancing infantry.

Without a hitch and absolutely according to schedule the entire line was moving tonight into positions paralleling the line of attack.

The American assault was successful everywhere. The enemy's front line was occupied in advance of schedule and the progress continues although the enemy's resistance is stiffening at certain places where an attack apparently was expected beforehand.

Positions For Years Impregnable

The Germans were forced to give up positions of great strength, which for years had proved almost impregnable. Consequently a feeling of much satisfaction is permissible but it is too early to announce definitely the results finally to be attained.

The counter battery work of the Germans to restrain our advance and his machine gun fire, caused trouble. His air work was very imperfect early in the day, but improved later and was directed particularly against the American balloons. The American tanks did well when they assisted in the advance.

AMERICAN ARMY ON VERDUN FRONT, Sept. 27.—(10 a. m.)—(By The Associated Press.)—The American advance continued during last night on the front of the offensive launched yesterday. The American patrols pushed forward, maintaining contact with the enemy. Stout machine gun resistance met during the night at one point was quickly overcome with tanks and artillery.

The weather today was thick, light rains having begun in the early morning in the field of the American operations, obscuring observation.

Late information tends to confirm the belief that the German heavy artillery was caught in the act of withdrawal and was unable to operate or reply satisfactorily. It is not known

ALL WOOL OVERCOATINGS

Mitchell Opens the Fall Season With a Sensational Offer of Genuine All Wool Overcoatings from the Carolina Mill of Connecticut

I don't recall the day in my nine years in Lowell when men were more insistent on stylish garments, and good, high grade qualities.

A dollar or two seems to have no influence in their selection, up-to-date merchandise alone dictates their choice. My actual experience today is that five men out of every six are buying the best merchandise I can buy for them and passing up the average makers.

To meet the demand of these customers who rule the day I have obtained this line of Guaranteed All Wool Overcoatings in all their styles and colorings, suitable for the sporty young man, and the middle-aged, modest dresser.

AND TO FURTHER prove to you it is ability—and not luck—or accident, I bring to you the famous

The 100 per cent. cloths, silver spoon weaves and golden fleece textiles—all born in the purple and crimine, made by the best designing talent in one of the best mills in New England—The Standish Mill of Plymouth, Mass.

TO MY CUSTOMERS—Lowell has been good to me and I appreciate the fact. With all the world hankering for wool, our government requesting the mill men to stop manufacturing all wool cloths and make 40 per cent. mixed goods only, I am playing my present phenomenal purchase against the day when I, too, shall have to come to inferior cloths and the patriotism of a patriotic citizen—when all wool shall be no more.

French Capture 7000

PARIS, Sept. 27.—The French have captured the Butte-du-Mesnil, the Butte-du-Souain, the Butte-du-Tahure, and the villages of Taurat, Ribout, Rouvray, Cernay, En-Dormois and Servon-Melzicourt.

More than 7000 prisoners have been taken by the French.

The French forces resumed their attack this morning and despite unfavorable weather conditions satisfactory progress is being made.

British Official Report

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Field Marshal Haig's report follows:

"At 5.20 o'clock this morning our troops attacked over a wide front south of the Senne river. First reports indicate that satisfactory progress is being made."

"During the night, successful local operations were carried out in the neighborhood of Athis, northwest of la Bassee and southwest of Fleurbais. Our line was advanced in three localities and prisoners captured."

"The Germans, by their retirement today, have gained a little time in which to bring up reserves, while Gen. Gouraud is bringing up his guns. This is an advantage in which it is difficult to find sufficient compensation for the ground and men lost today. The lines they retired to are no stronger than those they abandoned."

By a general review of the fight after many hours, it is evident that the enemy is stubbornly retiring to prepared lines to which all his heavy artillery has been withdrawn. This was the reason that his artillery reaction was inadequate during the early phases of the battle. The staff work of the American army was excellent. Continuous touch was maintained between divisions and reports were received without delay.

Ahead of the advancing French and

Americans are a number of important railway lines which flank the German positions along the front. If the drive continues to progress it will carry a distinct threat to the whole German position north of the Aisne, west of the present battlefield, and also tend to outflank the enemy's line before Metz and Briey.

That the enemy has prepared lines to which he is retiring is the belief of observers. Just where this line is located is not known exactly, but it is probable that the rate of progress of the allies, if maintained, will bring them up against this new front very soon.

Speed Surprises Germans

(WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE VERDUN FRONT, Thursday, Sept. 26, 10 p. m. Here are additional details reaching headquarters tonight telling of the advance early this morning of the Americans on the Germans and calling attention to the speed of the advance.)

The American troops took the Germans somewhat by surprise by the speed of their attack today and without giving them time to recuperate pushed them steadily northward. This evening the Americans between the Aronne and the Meuse had reached Malancourt, Montfaucon, Cuisy, Dannevoix and other towns along that line.

The example of intrepidity set by the Pennsylvania, Kansas and Missouri troops was followed by the men in the other American units.

The opposition at Montfaucon and Dannevoix and a few other points indicated that the German resistance was becoming spongy and it was apparent the enemy had had time to place in position some of the artillery withdrawn earlier in the day. Late in the afternoon the German aerial activity increased, indicating a determination to check what had developed so rapidly into a sweeping advance. The work of the tanks manned by French and Americans brought praise from the staff officers. The machines, however, were unable to display their abilities to the fullest extent because of the heavy condition of the terrain. The ground had been softened by recent rains and as the country naturally is swampy, many tanks became stalled in the mud, but they were not damaged as the infantry had driven the enemy well northward.

A most spectacular feature of the operation was the work of the aerial units. The aerial observers were able to accomplish little until the afternoon, but before the echoes of the opening barrage had died away the pursuit airplanes were over the German lines.

The clouds made it appear improbable that there would be any great display by the aviators and the fog seemed to hide the enemy, but flying at a height of less than 700 yards the airmen swept down on the German troops in the line and on the roads. Wagon trains were attacked and dead horses and debris blocked the path of those who shortly afterward sought avenues of retreat.

BOARDS SEND OUT QUESTIONNAIRES

All of Lowell's exemption boards have sent out questionnaires to all the men in their respective divisions between 19 and 37 years of age who registered the 15th of this month for national service.

Some of the questionnaires have already been returned to the boards and in one division, Division 2, a large number of the registrants have already been classified and know just how they stand in the draft. This is considered unusually speedy work, for on past occasions it was often times a month or more before a man would know in what class he was placed after he had filled out his questionnaire.

The local advisory board is still holding daily sessions at city hall from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. and a large number of registrants are being taken care of every day. The board will be in session until every registrant shall have had a chance to receive a vote on the filling out of the document.

There were representatives present from all coal offices and the Gas company; the fuel committee was represented by Mr. J. M. O'Donoghue, chairman; A. D. Miliken and Ira M. Boothby, secretary. The meeting was entirely informal and was called for the purpose of discussing the present coal situation and the outlook for the winter. Many householders are still without coal in spite of the limited delivery order which was put into effect by the committee Sept. 1. Figures had been tabulated showing the number of applications

YOU may admire the cleverness of an artist who can make a motor truck look like a haystack or convert a cannon into a clump of bushes, but when it comes down to a question of CLOTHING, you want no camouflage of QUALITY.

Naturally, there has been much clever camouflaging, and although shopping around may have been good policy in the past, you had better stick to the well beaten paths in clothes-buying this season, confining your inspection and selection to stores which have never wavered or wobbled in their policy of high quality—regardless of the price mark.

In selecting your new Fall Suit you had better choose wisely and well from our showing of which have been placed up to date and the number of tons applied for, as well as the number of tons delivered up to the present time. It was found by figures submitted that there were several hundred applications on which no delivery had yet been made, and as a means of aiding this situation, especially in view of the present unseasonable weather and the epidemic prevailing, it was found necessary that the amount of first delivery be cut still further in order that every home should receive some coal in the course of six to eight weeks.

During this time wood should be procured to take care of the chilly mornings and nights. It was agreed by the Gas Co. to assist the coal dealers on the first delivery by substituting coke on some of the orders for coal. It will take a day or two before plans can be properly worked out to carry this on, but every assistance possible is promised by the Gas company.

Consumers having a boiler or furnace as a heating plant will be obliged to use egg coal or broken coal with a mixture of No. 2 nut or buckwheat if desired. No stove or No. 1 nut coal will under any circumstances be delivered for use in boiler or furnace. The delivery of stove and No. 1 nut is restricted to one ton lots. Deliveries of these two latter sizes will also be restricted from households which now have coal or coke.

This is an emergency measure and is intended to cover only the time necessary to make a delivery to every household, which will probably be for the next six or eight weeks.

It is safe to predict, however, that stove and No. 1 nut will continue to be scarce throughout the winter and consumers who have orders for these two sizes are urged to notify their dealers at once that they are ready to accept the egg size.

To further offset the shortage which is looked for a supply of soft coal should be procured at once. There are no restrictions on this kind of coal at present.

With a view of relieving the minds of people as to expected dates of delivery a plan is to be worked out whereby each dealer will lay out his applications in lots of one week, based on his average weekly output, and will thereby be in a position to advise the customer approximately when his delivery can be expected. Consumers must realize, however, that this might vary from one week to the next, depending on the quantity of coal received by the dealer each week and also whether they are willing to accept the size coal which they should properly use under the restrictions previously referred to.

Consumers are urged to co-operate in every way possible; the dealers are doing everything they can and are willing to exert every effort in the future.

The point is now reached where the coal teamsters should exert every effort that they can. To relieve the present situation in the time stated, or as much sooner as possible, depends on the amount of deliveries made each day or each week and if delivery equipment is not in use due to teamsters being idle the amount of weekly deliveries will be that much reduced.

It is a case where everyone can and should co-operate; and it is hoped that with this co-operation on the part of all concerned that conditions will be relieved.

THE OWL THEATRE MOVIE CONTEST WILL CLOSE TOMORROW NIGHT

For the benefit of those who may not know, the Owl theatre movie contest being held to select a host for the local moving picture, "A Romance of Lowell," will close tomorrow, Saturday, Sept. 28, at 10 p. m. sharp, instead of 7 p. m. as previously announced. TWO WESTERN HORSES WIN AT COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 27.—Two Western horses, Verlie Patchen and Lillian T., won the feature races yesterday on the grand circuit, the former taking the Arch City stake purse, $3000 for 2:10 pacers, and the latter winning the 2:03 pace. Both victories were straight heat affairs.

While Verlie Patchen paced in 2:03 in her middle heat, her traveling to the half-mile pole in minute flat, the third heat showed that she was still fit to carry her extreme speed. Continuing to the three-minute pole at a near two-minute clip, she killed off her pursuers and came home almost at a jog in 2:03 1/2.

The 2:15-class trot was a long drawn-out battle. There were three different heat winners, Dell Jolla winning after five heats, Belle Alcantara, the favorite, took the 2:08 pace.

The weather was chilly, and a strong breeze blew down the back stretch. Summaries:

Tired, Overworked Mothers What You Need is Vinol

War conditions have made the demand upon a mother's time and energy unlimited. In their zeal to do all in their power for their loved ones, they continually overwork and are soon in a nervous, run-down condition. Vinol, the non-secret cod liver and iron tonic, will build you up and make you strong.

Boxing Exhibition Planned

A boxing exhibition will be staged at the Y.M.C.A. Auditorium here on Thursday night, Oct. 17, when the Hingham naval training station will send boxers to compete against the best Camp Devens has to offer.

A boxing class under Charles Leonard was started last Monday, and the best man from each company is attending the school, later to become an instructor. Boxing has been found an invaluable aid in bayonet fighting.

The Hingham naval training station will send boxers in the 115, 125, 135, 145 and 155-pound classes and possibly a heavyweight also. Capt. Neilgan has planned a battle royal and may have Benny Leonard here from Camp Upton to give a sparring exhibition. The men are looking forward to this event with a great deal of interest.

Col. John B. Shuman, division adjutant, has been relieved of his duties here and is transferred to the office of the adjutant general in Washington. Maj. Frank E. Drake has been assigned as adjutant of the 23d Infantry Brigade but detailed on special duty at division headquarters.

MUST NOT EXPECTORATE IN PUBLIC PLACES

In accordance with a decision reached at the influenza conference at city hall yesterday, Mayor Perry D. Thompson late yesterday afternoon sent the following letter to Supt. Welch of the police department in regard to the rigid enforcement of the law against spitting in public places:

Sept. 26, 1918.

Redmond Welch, Superintendent of Police.
"Dear Sir:—At this time during the spread of the epidemic known as influenza, I deem it advisable to call your attention to an act of the legislature, chapter 130, acts of 1907, entitled, 'An act to prohibit expectoration in public places and conveyances.'"

And to that end, I desire that you make insistence upon the members of the police department of the city of Lowell to enforce in the strictest measures this law.

This suggestion is made to you in view of a conference that I have had with the board of health of the city of Lowell, and it is the consensus of opinion of the members of the board of health that expectoration upon the public streets of the city of Lowell and in public places must at this time be stopped.

I sincerely trust that the men will give due notice to people who persist in the habit, and if they find ignorant commission of the offense, that prosecution should be made.

Sincerely yours,
PERRY D. THOMPSON,
Mayor and Commissioner of Public Safety.

WILL OMIT SUNDAY SCHOOL SESSIONS

At a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Y.M.C.A. by the executive board of the Lowell Federation of Churches, it was voted to recommend to the churches of the federation, that they omit the regular Sunday school sessions, and also the various young folks meetings next Sunday. This step is taken in an effort to help reduce the spreading of the influenza epidemic among the young people.

Reports of the past year's work were discussed, and tentative plans for the coming year were gone over. It was voted to allow the chairman of the va-

EXAMINE DRAFTEES AS SOON AS CLASSED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Provost Marshal General Crowder yesterday instructed local draft boards throughout the country to call draft registrants for physical examination as soon as they have been placed in Class I by their boards, even though they may have appealed for re-classification to the district board. The examination will be postponed only in case there is also pending a claim for deferred classification on industrial grounds.

Attention of the local boards was called to a new ruling providing that a registrant no longer has the right of applying for re-examination to the medical advisory board after being passed by the examining physician of the local board, as has been the custom heretofore.

Actual induction into the service of those found physically fit will be in accordance with their order numbers as determined by the drawing to be held here, except in individual cases, where local boards receive orders for the voluntary induction of certain registrants at the request of the army, navy and marine corps.

"A teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin each night at bedtime has done me a world of good, as I am 62 years old and was getting badly constipated. I had previously taken a lot of salts and pills without real relief." (From a letter to Dr. Caldwell written by Mr. A. Forester, Princess Anne, Md.)

Constipation is one of the penalties of age that should never be neglected—Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that relieves constipation in an easy, natural manner, without gripping or strain, and is as positive in its effect as it is mild and gentle in its action.

GERMAN GAS LOSES POWER TO TERRORIZE

LONDON, Sept. 19.—German gas does not hold the terrors it did in the earlier days of the war, as British masks provide practically complete protection. Army scientists are said to be so satisfied with the anti-gas measures that cases of gasping are now treated as self-inflicted. Unless the victim can establish that his hurt was sustained through no fault of his own, he is regarded as suffering from self-inflicted wounds.

Latest German gases are said to be not outwardly unpleasant and have no immediate effects, with the consequence that men are tempted to disregard the warnings and delay putting on the masks.

BOSTON CALLS FOR LOWELL NURSES

A call has been sent out from Boston asking the assistance of Lowell nurses in treating cases of influenza, and particularly the help of trained nurses. This request came from Dr. C. E. Simpson, of the state board of health, through Mrs. Butler Ames who has had charge of the recruiting of nurses during the past few months. It is understood that nurses volunteering their services will be paid. All those who have completed the Red Cross course in first aid or the home nursing course are eligible and should notify war work headquarters at 119 Merrimack street.

There has been urgent need for trained nurses during the past few days in Boston. The committee on emergency nurses' aid was formed for the purpose of proving valuable in just such cases as this one, and the names will be sent to Miss Billings, chairman of the committee for emergency nurses' aid, at room 436, State House, Boston.

Those willing to volunteer for this service are asked to notify war work headquarters or Mrs. Butler Ames, and the names will be sent to Miss Billings, chairman of the committee for emergency nurses' aid, at room 436, State House, Boston.

VICTIMS OF BURNS AT HOSPITAL

Miss Nellie Wasilek of 61 John street, received such severe burns from the flames of the gasoline which broke out from her machine at the United States Cartridge Co., yesterday that it was necessary to remove her to St. John's hospital. The accident occurred late in the afternoon, and first aid was promptly administered, after which the company ambulance hurried her to the hospital. She was severely burned on both arms, right thigh, and right side. She was reported today to be resting comfortably, and it is believed her injuries will not prove serious.

Another case of gasoline burns now at the hospital is that of William Lawcott, whose home is in Chalmersford Centre, but who has for some time been staying with relatives on Osgood street. In helping repair an automobile, Lawcott's hands and arms were badly burned. His condition today was reported as not serious. He was until lately employed at the Pilling Shoe Co.

GERMAN ADMIRAL UNLOADS MORE VISIONS OF FUTURE ON NAVY LEAGUERS

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 27.—"We must be victorious if we are not to perish politically and economically," Grand Admiral von Koester, former commander-in-chief of the German fleet, declared in a speech to the German Navy League at Dortmund, a Berlin message reports.

"After the war," he continued, "our ships in large numbers must traverse the ocean and we must have colonies, with strong points to support. We want free trade on the seas and we will only get that under the protection of the German fleet."

He eulogized the sword as a means of victory, declaring: "As nature needs storms, as God has given beasts teeth and claws, man also needs the sword."

Referring to the proposed league of nations, he said that Germany would only have the role of a Cinderella in it.

MAINE TO CUT ICE BUT NOT FOR N. Y.

GARDINER, Me., Sept. 27.—Indications are not a pound of natural ice will be cut on Maine rivers and ponds the coming winter for shipment. All ice harvested will be for local consumption. For the past 10 years the ice industry of Maine has been declining. Each winter has seen part of the crop harvested for shipment to New York and other large places.

The war has, in a way, made troubles for the artificial ice men by causing a shortage of ammonia, essential in the manufacture of ice. The lack of storage capacity in this state is a hindrance, while a still greater one is the inadequate shipping facilities.

KAISER SOUGHT CELLAR

He Came to Soothe Scared Mannheim Folks, but British Airmen Scare Him Too

GENEVA, Thursday, Sept. 27.—Emperor William, Field Marshal Duke Albrecht of Wurttemberg and Prince Stephen of Schaumburg-Lippe, were in Mannheim last week, when British airmen raided the city. The royal party, according to Democrite of Geneva, was staying in the royal palace and the emperor and his staff promptly took refuge in the cellar, remaining there 20 minutes. The palace was not hit, as it had been during a previous raid, but bombs fell in the vicinity.

The party spent last week in Alsace-Lorraine, stopping at the chief Rhine towns. Military hospitals generally were visited and public ceremonies were avoided.

The object of the visit, the newspaper adds, was to appease the unrest of the population owing to the approach to the frontier of allied armies and the constant aerial bombing.

The local evening newspaper is the paper that reaches the home when the whole family is there to read it. The Sun fills this field in Lowell.

CHANGES IN WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION LAW

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Sept. 27.—Numerous changes in the workmen's compensation law will be demanded of the next legislation by organized labor, all tending to give injured workers greater benefits and advantages.

Yesterday several representatives of labor appeared before the recess committee on workmen's compensation and accident prevention and outlined the changes which will be asked, and requested that the committee incorporate them in its report.

James Tansey of Fall River, representing the textile council, asked for increases in the minimum and maximum weekly payments permitted under the act. He contended that the present minimum of $5 per week is too little for any person to live on, espe-

The Many Mysteries of Nature

BY LY W. BOWER, M. D.

You can take an onion seed and a pansy seed, and plant them side by side in the same spot of ground. In one case, you get an onion, with its peculiar strong odor, and in the other you get a flower of rare beauty. You can plant a poppy seed and get opium (a dangerous, habit-forming drug), or you can plant a rhubarb seed and get something that helps constipation. No scientist, living or dead, can explain these mysteries of Nature. Behind the invisible life germ in each seed is hidden the deep secret that nobody understands. Everything growing out of the ground seems intended for some use in establishing natural conditions. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., long since found out what is naturally best for women's diseases. He has been all through treating thousands of cases. The result of his studies was a medicine called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine is made of vegetable growths that nature surely intended for backache, headache, weakness, nervousness, bearing-down pains, periodical irregularities, pelvic inflammations, and for the many disorders common to women in all ages of life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is made of lady's slipper root, black cohosh root, unicorn root, blue cohosh root, and Oregon grape root. Women who take this standard remedy know that in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they are getting a safe woman's tonic so good that druggists everywhere sell it.

Favorite Prescription should have the full confidence of every woman in America, because it contains no alcohol and no narcotic. Dr. Pierce knew, when he first made this standard medicine, that whiskey and morphine are injurious, and so he has always kept them out of his remedy. DOCTORS MAKE IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

Reliable physicians believe that broken down nerve tissues need not a brace but a builder like Phosphates and Iron. To get these essential food tonics to the nerves has long been the big question.

A successful physician says "Phosphated Iron is an especially adapted discovery that has solved the problem of giving Phosphates and Iron in such a way that the nervous system can actually take hold of it."

Another, an equally important mission of Phosphated Iron is to build up anemic (thin, weak, watery) blood by charging it with good health-giving iron.

A leading doctor says, "Phosphated Iron is the best iron tonic that I have ever prescribed, its results are remarkable."

Strengthening the nerves, building up their starved tissues and recharging weak, watery blood with the great health restorative, iron and Phosphates is the mission of Phosphated Iron. You who are nervous, weak, anemic (lack of iron in the blood) all in, and run down cannot afford to turn down the help that Phosphated Iron offers.

Special—To insure physicians and their patients receiving the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put up in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to substitute pills or tablets, insist on the genuine. In capsules only, Fred Howard, Lowell Pharmacy and leading druggists everywhere.

WOMEN HELPED SAVE

MARYLAND TOMATOES

Appeals for women to help in gathering the tomato crop in Maryland brought many recruits to the land army units at Fallston and Catonsville. It was found impossible to procure men, when so many industries are taking on employees for the autumn and when the draft quotas are increasing the shortage.

WOMEN MAKE TANKS

FOR BRITISH ARMY

British women are now making tanks for the army. In one factory every operation in the whole process of construction is carried on by women and in many others they are employed on various parts. They are also making good in many varieties of shipyard work and in blast furnaces, brickyards and spelter works. A foreman in charge of a blast furnace is quoted as saying that he would be willing to undertake any form of ferroconcrete work with only women as his assistants.

WOMEN WORKERS ARE

INSPECTING RIFLES

Three women, 20 of whom are engaged in the important work of inspection, are employed with the 1168 men comprising the force at the new Symington-Anderson gunshop at Rochester, N. Y.

This factory is turning out completed American and French 75-millimeter guns and 8-inch trench mortars, and has been in operation since early spring. It is one of the 16 plants constructed by the ordnance department for the manufacture of mobile artillery cannon.

Women operate the machines which run test bars from the steel forgings after they have been treated by heat.

They also operate the machine in which these bars are subjected to a breaking test to determine that texture and quality of the product and its fitness to go into guns.

CHICAGO GIRLS ACT

Three hundred women were selected to "man" 12 small cannon which were fired to announce the opening of Pershing week in the Chicago war savings drive. These women fired the cannon at stated intervals in the downtown district of the city.

LOUISIANA INVITES

YOU TO COME SOUTH

Hundreds of women are wanted by the factories of Louisiana, according to Mrs. Olivia Blanchard, director of the women's division, United States employment bureau at New Orleans.

"The shrimp factories offer good pay and whole families might go to them," said Mrs. Blanchard. "After the shrimps are canned the oyster season will begin. Transportation is furnished. Surroundings in many of the factories are good."

"Shrimp factories are in need of women, too. They offer from $10, $12 to $16 a week, and women who prove efficient can make $20."

MEXICAN LABOR WILL HARVEST U. S. RICE

CITY OF MEXICO, Sept.—Mexican labor, which may now as a war emergency measure enter the United States, through the action of the secretary of labor, will have an important task in the harvest of the rice crop in the southern states—a crop that is said to be the largest ever known.

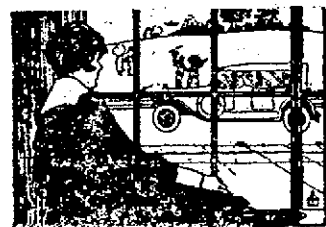

According to information received from many sections in the south, the labor situation so far as the rice crop is concerned, makes the advent of the Mexicans most welcome. In some places so many men have been called to the colors, or have enlisted voluntarily, that without Mexican labor it is feared much of the crop might be lost.

The department of labor has permitted the coming of Mexicans to ports along the gulf and to Atlantic ports as far north as Charleston. They are men who are familiar with farming conditions in semi-tropical districts and will be the most satisfactory labor supply that could be found for the south, in the opinion of men from that section of the country.

Next season it is expected that the Mexicans will be given a larger share in the agriculture of the country, for they will be available for all next season's farm crops in the south. Porto Ricans will also be brought to this country, as will natives of the Bahamas but these islanders will be used principally in shipyards or on sugar plantations.

A youngster from Massachusetts who was caught along the Maine border with other runaways, declared that he did not know he was in Maine, not having crossed the White Mountains!

Oxford county, Me., has a record of two girls who walked two miles and picked blueberries for 11 days out of 12 and sold more than $50 worth at 15 and 20 cents a quart, this season.

"Why don't you try Saunders?" replied our customer. "I am a crank on good dairy products myself, and I want to tell you that I want to go around to the different places in order to get them right, than you might imagine. I finally struck Saunders' Market and I want to tell you, my dear, I've never yet gotten any better cheese or eggs from them that wasn't wholesome, sweet and pure—a delight for me to put on the table. You don't know what good dairy products are until you've tried ours. Wholesome and fresh they are! Kept in a sanitary way, conserving their purity right to your table."

An interesting and instructive demonstration, under the direction of the United States Department of Agriculture, and the Lowell Food Conservation Committee, will be held at our big market this Saturday. All are welcome.

COTTAGE CHEESE RECIPES

NUT LOAF—Use below recipe, omitting the peanut meats and adding one-half cup walnut or native nut meats, cut not too fine. Pack in cake tin and bake in moderately hot oven until top is brown. Serve with mushroom, tomato, or brown sauce, or use as sandwich filling or sliced cold.

CAMOUFLAGE SAUSAGE—In one bowl mix one cup Cottage Cheese, one-quarter cup peanut butter, two tablespoons melted butter, one tablespoon minced raw onion, one-quarter cup nuts cut not very fine, one teaspoonful salt, one-half teaspoonful sage (ground), one-half teaspoonful thyme, one-quarter teaspoonful black pepper. Work contents of two bowls together, shaped into small cakes, roll in yellow corn meal, and cook quickly in little fat in hot sauce-pan.

COTTAGE CHEESE ROLLS—Take portion of firm peanut butter about size and shape of little finger, cover it with Cottage Cheese about a quarter of an inch thick, place in nest of lettuce leaves and serve with Russian or mayonnaise dressing. A prune stuffed with peanut butter may be substituted for the insert, giving an egg-shaped exterior, in which case, three should be used in the nest and the mayonnaise placed in a yellow glass in the centre.

TOASTED SANDWICH—Cut two slices of bread three-eighths of an inch thick, and put between the slices a layer of Cottage Cheese of the same thickness. The addition of pimento improves this dish. When the sandwich is completed, dip in beaten egg and toast quickly in hot fat or butter. Cut diagonally and serve with a slice of raw tomato on each section.

Surgeon General of U. S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Stamping out of Spanish influenza which has extended to more than a score of army camps and many sections of the country has been recognized by the government as a war measure.

Medical and nursing units today were mobilized in communities where the epidemic has gained considerable headway under the general direction of a central committee representing the public health service, the army, the navy and the American Red Cross.

Immediate relief for the localities where influenza has gone beyond control of the local authorities will be the main task of the committee.

Home defense units will be organized with such nurses as may be spared from other duties, and each unit placed at the disposal of the central committee.

Where local funds and buildings are not available, these will be obtained by the Red Cross, which also will open emergency hospitals.

Some concern has been felt at public health service headquarters over the spread of the epidemic in Massachusetts and other New England states. Steps already have been taken to provide relief by the organization of nursing and medical forces there, under the personal supervision of a representative of the committee.

"The main thing to be done," it was said at Surgeon General Rupert Blue's office, "is to mobilize such forces as are available in the localities affected and to carry forward relief work under one general direction, as outlined at the conference yesterday. The stamping out of influenza is a war measure and for that reason the Red Cross is prepared to offer substantial help."

Masks of thin gauze and composed of four layers of the cloth are being provided for the convalescent soldiers of the Walter Reed hospital here, to prevent a spread of Spanish influenza. The hospital is under the management of the war department.

One hundred masks have been supplied by the district chapter of the Red Cross, and several hundred more are being made. Not less than 45,000 will be manufactured this fall. Mrs. Lansing, wife of the secretary of state, and Mrs. McAdoo, wife of the secretary of the treasury, have promised to supply 1200.

So far as known this is the first instance in which masks have been employed as a preventive to the spread of contagious disease.

PUNISH VIOLATORS OF FOOD RULES

BOSTON, Sept. 27.—The Brennan Grain company of Chelsea has been forbidden by the United States food administration to sell any more flour until after Jan. 1 next, and it may then sell only in the event that it obtains a license from the food administration.

This action has been taken upon recommendation of State Food Administrator Henry B. Endicott, who found the firm had been selling for $12 and $14 per barrel flour which cost them only $10.50 per barrel, the sales frequently being made without substitutes, and that it bought a carload of flour after being forbidden to buy or sell until its accounts had been straightened out.

The Suffolk county food administration has taken over 160 pounds of sugar which were found on the premises of J. B. Meelia, owner of a saloon at 124 Bedford street, this city. As a result of the discovery, Meelia voluntarily contributed $25 to the Red Cross. Nicholas Apostolis, who conducts a produce store at 24½ Faneuil hall market, will be required to post conspicuously in his place of business a notice that he violated the rules of the food administration by selling 100 pounds of sugar in one lot. Apostolis was also required to surrender to the food administrator all of the sugar he had on hand.

The national food administration has also approved recommendations made by Mr. Endicott with reference to J. and L. Springer, who conduct stores at 8 Cutting street and 35 Brighton street, Boston. Mr. Endicott recommended that they be placed on an unfair list for the duration of the war, unless they at once place in the hands of the food administration all sugar now on hand, agree to sell no sugar prior to January 1 next, post signs admitting that they have violated the rules and that no further sales of flour be made until substitutes in sufficient quantity be purchased.

DOUGHNUT DAY TO RAISE WAR FUNDS

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Plans for a national "doughnut day," on which the "trench doughnut," as served by the Salvation Army workers to American soldiers overseas, will be introduced to the public at home, were announced here last night by the united war work campaign committee.

Salvation Army workers will cook the doughnuts in huge kettles on street corners and will sell them, red hot, for one dollar each—enough, according to the committee, to furnish 12 doughnuts for soldiers overseas.

Every housewife in the country who knows how to make doughnuts will be asked to turn out a batch on "doughnut day," the date of which has not yet been fixed.

"Doughnut day" is expected to net the committee at least a couple of millions of the $170,000,000 sought for the seven big war work organizations.

BIDDY SMILES GOOD FOAM
Car windows are notoriously hard to close and open. Gentlemen who notice a woman passenger of the car struggling with a window are privileged to offer her their assistance and superior strength. The man nearest to the woman passenger should adjust the window to suit her wishes, but if he does not offer any other man near her may go to her aid. In cars having bundle or hat racks above the seat it is courteous for a man to assist a woman in disposing of her parcels in the rack.

I see the fresh life in the cheeks rosy blush-

PULLED GUN ON LUNCH CART PROPRIETOR

Daniel McCarty of Boston pulled a gun on the proprietor of a lunch cart near the Middlesex street depot, last night, because the chef there was unable to serve him a delicacy known as a "fried frankfort." The "gunman" was arraigned in police court today and the proprietor of the lunch cart testified that the defendant came into his place during the evening and asked for a fried frankfort. The chef explained to him that due to some unforeseen occurrence, he did not have the necessary ingredients with which to compound that particular brand of sandwich, and asked if he could serve him with something else. McIntyre, who, it was alleged, seemed to be slightly under the influence of liquor, replied that he had given his order, and would stick around until he was served. The proprietor took a hand here, and suggested that McIntyre take himself outside. Defendant in answer pointed a revolver at the proprietor and reiterated his intention of getting his "fried frankfort."

The result was that McIntyre was escorted to the station by a police officer, and this morning pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness and unlawfully carrying a pistol. For the latter he was fined $50, and the drunkenness charge was filed. Judge Pickman ordered him continued in the sum of $200 until tomorrow to give him

The Boys Have "Come Through" Have You?

The boys have "come through," as Americans always do, at the Marne, Chateau Thierry, Seicheprey and St. Mihiel.

They are doing their part—the hardest part—and now again we have the privilege of doing ours, puny in comparison, by subscribing to the Fourth Liberty Loan.

Make every dollar you can possibly spare a fighting dollar—lend your money to the Government to wage humanity's greatest crusade.

RAILROADERS' WOUNDED TO HAVE HOME

Railroad men have found a new way to "do their bit" in the war and for the men who return from France wounded and sick. They are raising a large fund to establish a convalescent home for wounded soldiers and sailors who were before enlistment connected with railroad operation, and hope soon to have a sufficient amount for the purpose.

The home will be located on the Double Header Ranch, just at the foot of Double Header mountain, from which it takes its name. Guy Adams, chairman of the mail transportation committee for the railroad administration and traffic manager of the Union Pacific, gave 40 acres of the ranch for the purpose to the Railroad Men's Mountain Home association, of which he is one of the trustees.

The site for the home is 32 miles west of Denver and 15 miles up Turkey Creek Canyon from Morrison station. The ranch as a whole comprises 160 acres, and has seven fine springs of clear water.

PITTSBURGER TAKEN AS SPY FOR HUNS

PITTSBURG, Sept. 27.—Alleged to be the directing head of German espionage and propaganda in western Pennsylvania, Charles F. Banning, reputed multi-millionaire, was arrested at the Duquesne club today on a federal warrant charging violation of the espionage act. He is a naturalized American citizen.

John Thornton McKean, assistant train director of the Washington, D. C. terminal, who was married in England August 19, had to leave his bride behind him after a brief honeymoon, because the British authorities at the last moment issued an order that no woman would be allowed on the ship on which he had engaged passage for himself and wife to come to the United States. For business reasons he had to come without delay.

BROCKTON FAIR IS CANCELLED BY GRIP

BROCKTON, Sept. 27.—The board of health this afternoon ordered the Brockton fair cancelled this year, because of the epidemic of influenza raging in this district. The fair was to have been held Oct. 1, 2, 3 and 4. The ministers' association today voted to close all Protestant churches Sunday and to leave the matter of future closing with the board of health.

All public meetings were ordered abandoned today. There was no letup in the epidemic, according to health officials. There are more than 6000 cases in the city and nearby towns.

GASOLINE SAVING

MUST BE EXTENDED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Sunday gasoline saving must be extended before long if America is to maintain the vast motor transport service now being organized under Col. C. B. Drake.

This was the warning of prominent war department authorities yesterday, who pointed out that the speed and effectiveness of motor transport may wrest a victory out of a well-nigh impossible situation oftentimes.

A half million gallons of gasoline daily are required for our present motor transport service. This amount will be more than doubled by spring, and there must be ample reserve on hand.

Camps for training of motor transport men will be opened at once at Jacksonville, Fla., and Fort Sheridan, Chicago, while 10 others will be started soon.

REPUDIATE FEDERAL

CONTROL APPEAL

AYER, Sept. 27.—"The people of Ayer have been made to look ridiculous and, to a certain degree, unpatriotic through the actions of a small clique of outsiders who are making money from the men at the camp and who call themselves citizens of Ayer."

This was a statement made to newspapermen yesterday by citizens who claim they have been misrepresented by the "clique" referred to. The published statement to the effect that citizens of Ayer were getting up a petition to the war department to take over the administration of the town has raised a tempest here. Citizens who signed the circular letter, that was to be distributed at the camp, declare they knew nothing of a petition that was to go to the war department.

George H. Brown, merchant of Ayer, declared yesterday that when he signed the letter distributed at Camp Devens he did not intend it as a criticism of the local authorities; that he is not in favor of martial law nor the taking over of the town by the government. He said his position was misrepresented. Mr. Brown said he knew nothing of the petition and would withdraw his name from the circular letter. The same stand was taken by J. J. Barry, J. M. Markham and J. M. Bulger.

"The statements in today's papers made us look like disloyal citizens, which we are not," they said. "This whole matter is the work of outsiders, who opened stores here since the camp came. We wish it understood that we repudiate the stand they have taken. We will stand by any action deemed necessary by our local administration, which is not in need of outside help."

MAMMOTH FLY WHEEL

Notice has been received of the completion of one of the largest wood rim fly wheels in the country, by the firm of W. W. Carey Co., of Lowell. This mammoth wheel will be delivered to the American Printing Co., of Fall River, at an early date. Three carloads of two-inch white pine lumber, three barrels of glue and 15 kegs of cement coated nails were required to assemble this monster, the dimensions of which are 29 feet and six inches in diameter and 15 feet 4 inch face. It carries four belts, two being 44 inch and the others 33 and 36-inch respectively.

The Sun prints the news of the world when it is news and only such news as is of print. It is a clean family newspaper.

The war has taught one important thing to those who are willing to learn. It has made things cost more; and when we pay more for a thing we're apt to be more particular to know what we're getting. The war has taught that good quality pays in economy, though we have to pay more to get it.

Be patriotic about buying clothes

You may not need new clothes this fall; if you can get along with what you have, save the money for Liberty Bonds or War Savings Stamps. If you have to buy, remember this:

You don't buy anything in which quality is more important than clothes; you ought to be very particular about what you get for your money, especially because it's so easy to make poor quality in clothes look very good, and there's plenty of poor quality to be had.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are one of the ways in which we serve; all-wool fabrics, the best of tailoring, the most distinguished style; clothes that you can rely on, absolutely. Such clothes as these, made carefully for service, are the best means of saving money for yourself and resources for the country.

THE NEW STYLES ARE ECONOMICAL

In regard to style, you'll find that they are as smart looking as ever; but there's greater simplicity in them, and everything has been designed to save materials and labor. You'll like the new models we're sure; we have many good things to show you.

FIGHTING THE EPIDEMIC

In response to the appeal of the Boston Emergency Public Health Committee, radical measures are being taken all over the state, to check the spread of the influenza epidemic. The situation has become so alarming that the closing of schools, theatres and all places of public assembly is recommended as an essential preventive measure.

It is of no use to close the schools if the children flock to the picture shows, and fiddle to close the theatres if other assemblies equally dangerous are attended. Unless the people co-operate with the public health authorities, these preventive measures will be futile.

Yesterday the total number of cases of influenza in this city was 619, and 125 new cases were reported during the day.

This indicates that the epidemic is rapidly spreading although it is alleged that there are hundreds of cases throughout the city that have not been reported. Many of the latter have not been brought to the attention of any doctor and some doctors, it is alleged, have failed to report all the cases they have treated.

The fact is, that the doctors are overworked. The majority of them have not had time either to sleep or to eat since the epidemic started. Some of them are on the verge of collapse from sheer exhaustion due to overwork and lack of sleep. Thus far, it has not been deemed advisable to quarantine the houses in which the influenza patients reside, nor would a quarantine serve any useful purpose. Indeed it might do harm instead of good, by stopping the ordinary intercourse among neighbors and thus allowing many patients to die through neglect. Commissioner Kelley of the state board of health advises the people to wear warm clothing, to get as much fresh air and sunshine as possible, to maintain the best possible physical condition and to avoid every source of infection. As the disease germs are carried in the air, they must enter the system through the nose and throat. To minimize the danger of such infection, it is well to wash the nasal passages and the throat regularly with some mild antiseptic.

Already the disease has spread over 25 states of this country and there is little prospect of its subsidence. It is so widespread that no local effort can check its general progress. Every community must, therefore, provide for its own safety as far as that may be possible in fighting this dangerous epidemic.

GASLESS SUNDAYS

Weep no more over gasless Sundays, and sit not idly at home and condemn the fuel administration for depriving you of the pleasure of getting into the country on the one day in the week when you have leisure.

Within a short distance from the heart of every city there are regions to be explored which can be reached by trolley and on foot, as well worth the effort as the distant points to which you have motored each Sunday before the gas ran out.

A bit of woods, a stretch of lake front, the course of a winding brook or a noble river like our own Merrimack, will furnish a refreshing change of scenery, and the physical effort involved will bring you back with a healthy flush of the cheek and a brighter eye.

Full days in the country are fine days despite the occasional rainfall. It is delightful to wander through fields which have yielded rich harvest, forests whose leaves are beginning to show the gold and crimson hues of autumn, and through upland and lowland giving rest to the forest-shortened city vision.

Within easy reach of Lowell are many beautiful places which the motorists know not of and which they will visit while the car is getting a much needed rest and gasoline is being saved to furnish power for the tanks that move against the Huns.

To explore on foot some of these bits of Nature's grandeur, would be a new and healthful experience that will prove far more beneficial than the speeding over highways where the eye gets but a passing glance at the scenery and the car is assailed with the perpetual honk! honk! of the countless cars that go whizzing past.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND

Like the fall of a great oak in the forest is the death of Archbishop Ireland who since Civil War days had been a commanding national figure, a great power for good in every phase of American life, the foe of intemperance, a sterling patriot and always a true American.

Archbishop John Ireland was known for many years as "The Father Matthew of the West," so strong was his advocacy of total abstinence. In the Civil War, as in the Spanish-American war, he proved his ardent patriotism and when the United States entered the present struggle, in his feeble health, with all the fervor left in his soul, he came out to inspire his people with enthusiasm in support of the government, reminding them that they were first of all Americans and that they must stand ready to make any sacrifice which the government might deem necessary.

He had set before himself the task of extending the influence of the Catholic religion over America and of solving the all-absorbing moral questions with which religion is confronted. As a great churchman, a patriot and man of profound learning, Archbishop Ireland was recognized even by secular institutions as when Yale university conferred upon him a honorary degree, and when France selected him to deliver the Joan of Arc oration. He was also honored by President McKinley when chosen to represent the United States in presenting to France the statue of Lafayette. Perhaps no man of his day in this country, with the exception of Cardinal Gibbons, exerted a more wholesome influence on his country and his age than did Archbishop Ireland. In politics he was a staunch republican; but where moral issues entered into politics, he stood for what he believed to be right, in the conviction that even a moral and desirable end should never be advanced by immoral means or methods.

Coming so soon after the death of Cardinal Farley, the passing of this great prelate is a serious loss to the Catholic church in which he had been a most zealous, able and devoted exponent.

PREFERS BRIDE TO THRONE

The crown prince of Rumania having married the daughter of a major in the Rumanian army, in reply to threats of losing the dynastic succession, has declared that in these times thrones are so unstable that he would prefer the certainty of having the wife he wants to the chance of becoming king of Rumania.

He has been sentenced to solitary confinement by his father, King Ferdinand, on the ground that he deserted his command without permission. As he has gone to Bessarabia to spend his honeymoon, the solitary confinement sentence is not likely to take effect, at least for some time; and as Queen Marie is not so desperately opposed to the marriage, it is not unlikely that the king may be persuaded that in this morganatic marriage, the young prince is helping to prepare the throne for the era of democracy that is to follow this war. But the prince who prefers his freedom in choosing a wife to the promise of a tottering throne, is to be applauded for his good sense.

REPUBLICAN CAMOUFLAGE

Republican newspapers have already set out to discredit the candidacy of Richard H. Long and to reflect upon the methods by which he secured the nomination. They affect to have great sympathy for Col. Gaston and for Mr. Barry; but had either of the latter won, these papers would similarly be sympathizing with the defeated candidates and equally reflecting upon the methods by which the successful candidate won the nomination. Democrats must not be misled by this form of camouflage. It is the republican plan of spreading dissension in the ranks of the democracy. Such tactics, however, will not avail to turn democrats from their duty to their party or their determination to sustain the administration at Washington by supporting the candidates who have stood by the president, rather than those who have been trying to block his progress in the prosecution of the war.

We expect to find Col. Gaston and Edward P. Barry playing the part of good and loyal democrats in helping to elect Mr. Long. If the democrats of the state do their full duty, Mr. Long will be the next governor of Massachusetts.

As the republicans are thus early trying to drive a wedge into the Long salient, it may be assumed that they will adopt several turning movements; but these, we believe, will be effectually blocked by the barrage of Long's artillery.

To Be a Leader You Must Dress Like One

THE men who pay strict attention to their clothes are the ones who hit on all cylinders in the pursuit of success. They know the importance of not missing fire in a matter that counts so much as personal appearance.

To be sure of having that right, a man must wear styles that are right—and you will find them in every suit or overcoat that bears the label—

Society Brand Clothes

These styles for men are first of all authentic. That means they are always in good taste—sensible. That they are refined—not foppish. Never extreme and yet they have a distinguished way about them that makes the man who wears them look distinguished.

Society Brand styles are hand tailored into every garment, and when the style's tailored in to stay in there's no way the coat or trousers can lose shape. The cloth may get old but the style stays young.

There is nothing better in fabric, fit and workmanship. If that sounds good to you, you'll like the clothes even better. —Come in and look them over at your leisure.

The Art of Dunning

"I am tired of dunning old Powderstitch for the $50 spirits of nitre bill. The old boy is rolling in money—I'll give the account over to a collector," grumbled Sedgewick Doem, of Doem & Good, druggists.

The following week old Powderstitch received form 1, beginning "Honored Sir," from Steady's collection agency, requesting the settling of his spirits of nitre account.

There was no answer.

The following week he received form 2, beginning, "Sir."

There was no answer.

The following week he received form 3, beginning, "Say, Powderstitch."

There was no answer.

The following week he received form 4, beginning, "Hey, you."

There was no answer, and the following week Ignatius Steady called in person and told old Powderstitch that Doem & Good were about to bring suit.

"Is that your last move?" asked Powderstitch.

"Absolutely," replied Steady. "Say no more about it. Here's a check," said old Powderstitch. "The truth of the matter is, it's the first bill I've ever owed—the idea being to find out the system of an up-to-date collection agency for the benefit of my son, who is about to start a collection bureau on his own account. Nat at all! Quite welcome. Goodbye." — Detroit Free Press.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Charles J. Leathers, manager of the New England Telephone company, actually complained to me yesterday about the telephone service and while I have been always more or less an admirer of Mr. Leathers as a hustler and up-to-date business man, he added to his laurels yesterday in my estimation by acknowledging the fact that the service over which he has local control is not what it ought to be and he says influenza is responsible for it. There is no doubt but that influenza is the greatest disorganizer that has struck this country for some time and it is being felt in all quarters. Mr. Leathers said that his force is 20 per cent. less than normal and in view of the fact that this holds good in Boston and elsewhere it is little wonder that the telephone service is somewhat off color. And there probably isn't anybody in Lowell who feels as badly about it as does the local manager.

Lowell merchants are certainly doing their part in helping carry the fighting fourth Liberty loan over the top, by using their show-windows for patriotic and timely displays. In this connection let it be said that a glimpse of the Merrimack street windows of the A. G. Follard Co. this week is well worth while.

Large American flags form the background of this display, in the center of which is a large colored map of the war zone in France, showing by means of a line of flags the different sectors which are now held by the American, French, British and Italian troops, respectively. Be it said that if our boys continue to drive ahead as they have been of late, the window-trimmer will be kept rather busy in moving the string, which represents the present battle-line, over in the general direction of Germany.

The window is crowded with photos of Lowell boys who are in the service, one of whom, Albert Vinal, having already made the supreme sacrifice. There are also many interesting relics and souvenirs from the battle-scarred fields of Flanders and Picardy, including German knives, coins, etc. That the French and American boys who are in the rear of the fighting temporarily, are not lacking in ingenuity is evidenced by the bracelets and rings displayed here, and which are the handwork of the boys' leisure moments. The bracelets were made from the exploded shell of one of the celebrated French 75's (75 millimeter gun), and the rings from the parts of the first German airplane brought down by our boys.

relics is a battered German helmet, which was taken from a German prisoner by a Lowell boy who was a member of an American Infantry patrol which was out on scout duty, near the village of Enxay in No Man's Land, on the night of Feb. 15. Judging from the collapsed condition of the said head-gear, Fritzies must have been mugged up some before he consented to be led to the rear. In fact, one of the dents in the top of the helmet looks very much like the trade mark of a Yankee rifle-butt.

It is an interesting study in psychology to note the credit people are prone to take to themselves for the purchase of Liberty bonds. Dare a man consult his conscience, his loyalty—the country's need of funds in its present mission, and hesitate a moment? A man should take no more credit to himself for buying bonds than he should for obeying the law, paying his bills and doing an indispensable day's work. In fact he should buy bonds in gratitude, in humility at his opportunity to help in this holy crusade for man's freedom. No duty was more sacred, none more imperative. Gold was never harnessed to such a just cause. As some one said:—All dollars which should and are not invested in bonds are pro-German.

It speaks well for the general health conditions of the community of Lowell that the number of cases of influenza in this city is comparatively so small in relation to our population. It also speaks well for the foresightedness of the local authorities and those in charge of certain war activities to have seen the wisdom of delaying the execution of plans which involved such elaborate preparation and such considerable effort. Such an act displayed both civic spirit and patriotism. Nothing should be fostered which involves a risk of the physical well-being of the city. The creation of an emergency sub-committee by the state and an appropriation of funds to combat the disease is proper and the warning of the local schools is a necessary and wise precaution.

We are informed the best way to combat an attack—is to be well nourished, well clothed, well slept and above all to be cheerful and do a day's work.

MAY ANSWER HERTLING

Wilson to Face Thousands in New York Tonight, When City Starts Bond Drive

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—President Wilson's address at the Metropolitan Opera House here tonight, signaling the opening of the national campaign for the fourth Liberty loan was awaited with intense interest and thousands today clamored in vain for tickets of admission. The available 5000 seats have been reserved for Liberty loan committeemen. Of the 50,000 committeemen from the New York federal reserve about 8000 came here from out of town in the hope of hearing the president.

The meeting will begin with the singing of "America" by the audience. Benjamin Strong, president of the federal reserve bank of New York, will make a short address. John McDermack will sing "The Star Spangled Banner" and then the president will speak. The popular belief is that, in addition to making a stirring appeal for the sale of bonds, he will reply to the recent speech of Count von Hertling, the German imperial chancellor. Before the meeting opens there will be a "concert of noise" for half an hour, from powerful air raid sirens, police emergency whistles, church bells and other sound producers. The "all clear" signal for the air raid sirens will be sounded just before the president starts to speak.

DRAFT LOTTERY HELD NEXT MONDAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Monday Sept. 30, was set by Provost Marshal General Crowder today, as the date for the national draft lottery to determine the order in the classes to which they will be assigned, of the 13,000,000 men from 15 to 45, who registered for selective service Sept. 12.

The drawing will take place publicly at the senate office building, and the numbers will be given to the press and the country by local draft boards as quickly as the list can be printed and put into the hands of the boards by mail.

It will be necessary this time, to draw, one at a time, approximately 17,000 capsules, containing the serial numbers and it will require approximately 26 hours to complete the task.

PROVIDENCE SENDS NURSES
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 27.—Six nurses will go this afternoon to Boston in response to the appeal for aid in the influenza epidemic and more will go tomorrow. This was announced by Dr. C. V. Chapin, superintendent of health.

There were six deaths here today from the disease. The state board of health is considering the closing of public places. The police have been ordered to enforce the anti-spitting laws rigidly.

Plans Complete

sex-county is complete and ready for the opening whistle.

Saturday is to be the "big" day of the drive. The fireworks are scheduled to come at the beginning instead of the end of the drive, as has been the case in previous campaigns. Every energy and effort of the campaign workers will be concentrated on the purpose of an overwhelming subscription on the first day. The committee feels that everybody in Lowell who is going to tomorrow to the fourth loan can do it tomorrow just as easily as three weeks from tomorrow.

The banks are ready for the anticipated deluge of subscriptions and many of them will keep open all day tomorrow instead of their regular hours.

The bonds will pay 4½ per cent interest and may be bought in the regular government installments as follows: Ten per cent, down, 20 per cent on November 21, December 19 and January 16, and a final payment of 30 per cent on January 30.

Even better terms are offered by the local banks and trust companies. You can arrange with them to buy a bond on weekly installments.

Lowell will be called upon to raise approximately $7,000,000 before October 19. The women of the city have agreed to undertake the task of raising $1,000,000 of this.

The campaign opening will be signaled by the ringing of bells and blowing of mill whistles here at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Every musical stimulation for a record-breaking first day subscription has been provided by the campaign committee.

Several large subscriptions have already been received and among them is one for $5000 from the Everlastik corporation, T. Martin & Co. The United States Hunting Co. is preparing for a $50,000 subscription. Various other large mills and manufacturing plants have indicated their intention of subscribing the first thing Saturday morning.

In the Towns

The various towns in northern Middlesex county are all ready for the opening gun of the campaign. In Chelmsford the committee in charge has taken upon itself the task of raising $275,000, twice as much as was raised in the third loan. A final meeting of the loan committee, Herbert E. Ellis, chairman, will be held this evening in the town hall.

North Billerica's quota is $135,000, an increase of $20,000 over the previous drive. Thomas T. Clark is chairman of the committee. The Boston & Maine car shops' whistles will blow at the opening hour of the drive and all the church bells will ring.

Tewksbury's Liberty loan campaign committee is ready for the start of the drive. This town's quota is $70,000 and a committee of women headed by Mrs. H. M. Larabee will assist in securing this amount. Effective publicity work for the drive has been done by the school children of the town.

shine was looked upon as a hopeful sign in combatting the epidemic. Official cognizance of the seriousness of the situation in Massachusetts was taken today by the federal government. Dr. W. F. Draper of the public health service bureau, stationed at Washington, arrived to look into the health conditions of shipyard workers. In Quincy, where the Fore River and Squantum shipbuilding plants are located, there are more than 6000 cases of influenza and pneumonia. Work in the shipyards has been seriously delayed. Other New England yards have also felt the effects of the malady.

Advanced plans for meeting the epidemic were expected to be announced today through the eight district officers of the state department of health. The district officers at a conference formulated a system designed to standardize action in all parts of the state. More schools in the eastern part of the state were closed today. Pairs which were scheduled for the next two weeks are expected to be postponed or abandoned for this year. The state conventions of the republican and democratic parties are scheduled to take place Oct. 5, the republicans to meet in Boston and the democrats in Worcester. Party leaders said today they were in a quandary as to what should be done.

Canada's Aid Asked

In asking that help be sent to Massachusetts, Acting Gov. Coolidge sent telegrams to President Wilson and the governors of Maine, Vermont and Rhode Island and the mayor of Toronto, Canada. Commissioner Kelly sent appeals to health officials in Washington. New Hampshire and Connecticut were not asked for help because of the spread of the epidemic to those states.

In Haverhill, the board of health today, in an effort to check further spread of influenza, ordered all theatres, moving picture houses, schools and public assemblies closed for one week. Schools were allowed to complete today's session. Churches are not included in the order but the local federation of churches has voted to request all Protestant organizations to omit their services Sunday.

In Brockton hope that the spread of influenza in this city and surrounding towns might be checked with the arrival of a corps of medical men and nurses sent here from Washington by Surgeon General Rupert Blue of the public health service, was expressed by officials today. The doctors, sent in response to a request by Congressman Richard Olney, left Washington last night.

Several local physicians are ill with influenza, and the others have been unable to visit all who required medical attendance. Hospitals are filled and there has been practically no abatement in the epidemic, which already has attacked 8000 persons and caused many deaths. Conditions became so serious a few days ago that Mayor William L. Gleason appealed to Congressmen Olney, who in turn took the matter up with the public health service.

Although the committee's vote was in the form of a request rather than an order, it was felt that it would be very generally obeyed throughout the state. The matter was brought up at the meeting by Chairman Endicott, who stated that medical men were agreed that glasses used in serving soda fountain drinks were a great source of infection.

The managers of the Brockton fair were notified that the event must not be held at the time planned. To the management of the Red Cross horse show at Readville, the committee sent word that if the show were continued, it would be at their own risk.

Officials of the Red Cross at Washington, notified state health authorities today that it would be impossible to send doctors and nurses here as there were many calls from other states and it was feared that some might prove to be more urgent than the Massachusetts call. Dr. Eugene R. Kelly, state health commissioner, immediately replied suggesting the formation of a flying squadron which he said might be sent here and still be ready at a moment's notice to proceed elsewhere should its services be required.

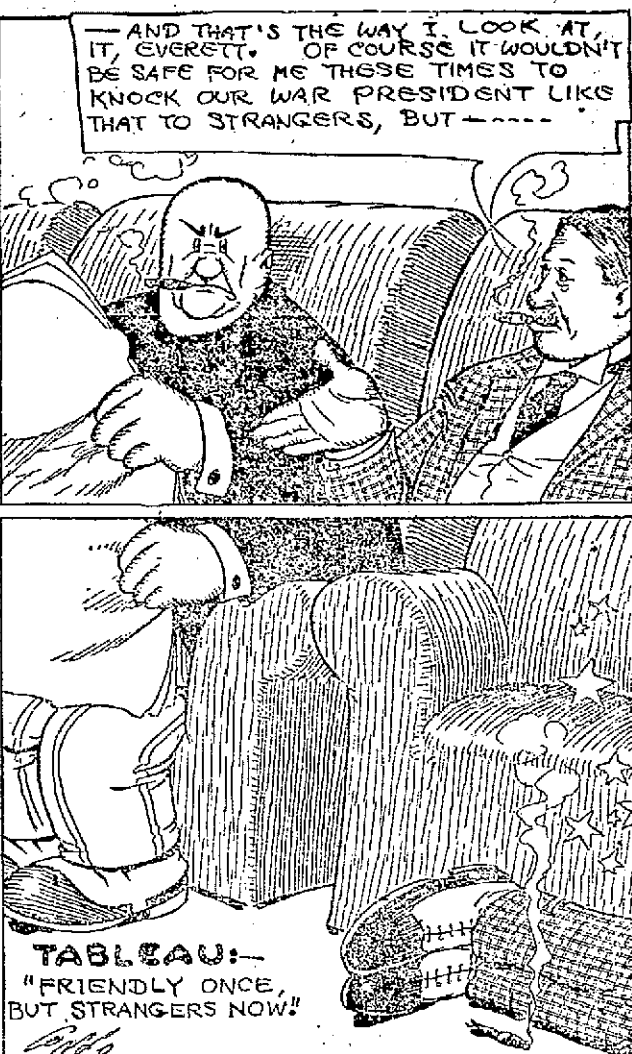

Because of the epidemic, the governing committee of the Boston stock exchange voted to omit the half session of the exchange tomorrow.

NOT MUCH CHANGE IN GRIPPE EPIDEMIC

The status of Lowell's epidemic remained about the same today with the exception of a slight decrease in the number of new cases reported. A total of 30 cases were reported at the office of the board of health up to noon in comparison with 101 reported at the same hour yesterday. This brought the total number of cases to date to 723. Four more deaths were reported today, making the total since the epidemic began 19.

The matter of re-opening the schools and theatres Monday has not yet been decided one way or another. The board of health has not yet taken any action although it is expected that a meeting will be held within a short time to discuss the matter. The theatre managers have been left more or less in the air as to preparations for next week's performances.

It has been noted that the public schools in Lawrence have been ordered closed until Oct. 7.

LOWELL'S MORTALITY RATE

Lowell's mortality rate for the week ending Sept. 21, was considerably reduced in comparison with previous weeks. This city's rate was 13.9 and this put her 26th on a list of 44 cities, which is the lowest point she has been at for several months. Jersey City headed the list with a percentage of 23.8; Cleveland, 27.9; Buffalo, 27.4; Toledo, 28; Pittsburgh, 24.3; Providence, 23.8; Cambridge was low with 1.8. The average was 17.2.

GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUBS WILL HAVE TO BURN WOOD OR GO
COLD

The federal fuel commission has announced that golf and country clubs must use no coal between Dec. 1, 1918, and April, 1919, and it looks as if these former places of comfort will present a dreary appearance this winter unless supplies of wood are obtainable. All classes of golf and country clubs are included in this ruling, and state or county fuel administrators have no authority to exempt any club from this ruling. The results of the ruling are that clubs may obtain small quantities of coal for their personal comfort only from the United States fuel administrator in Washington upon receipt of a certificate of necessity from the state fuel administrator.

NO BOUT TONIGHT AT THE CRESCENT A.C.

Not only must the theatre patrons be inconvenienced by the board of health mandate requiring all amusement halls, schools, etc. to keep closed doors for the remainder of the week, but the ruling has also hit the Crescent A.C. who are complying with the request, and therefore the meeting scheduled for tonight is postponed until next week.

This will be a disappointment to many fans who were looking forward to the clash between those two giant exponents of the manly art, Johnson and Langford. However, this pair will be on deck at the meeting next week, and possibly the respite thus given them will make their work all the better on the night of the battle.

Letters From Lowell Soldiers

Wagoner Hugh F. Ward of the 102d Infantry in France, has written an interesting letter to his sister here in Lowell. Wagoner Ward enlisted in Co. C, June 14, 1917, and took the usual training at Framingham and Camp Devens. From Camp Devens he was transferred to the 102d Infantry at New Haven and sailed overseas in November. He is 18 years old. The letter in part, follows:

August 21, 1918.

Dear Sister:

Just a few lines to let you know I am well and hope you are the same. I received your letter and was glad to hear from you. I have not had much time to write to you so I hope you will forgive me.

In your last letter you spoke about the great victory. Did you know that I was in it? I suppose you are getting to hear that. The Hunns are going home.

I hope that you are not worrying about me as I am all right. I am at rest camp now and will have lots of time to write. I am sending you a card and hope you will like it. All the lowell boys are well, and are asking for the people at home. I think that all the better on the night of the battle.

The following letter has been received by Mrs. James Mahoney, 42 Marion street, from her husband, Private James Mahoney, 301st Supply Train, Co. D, A.E.F.:

HOSTESS HOUSE IS DOING HELPFUL WORK

CAMP DEVENS, Sept. 27.—A lot has been said about what the women are doing during the present epidemic. Among these who are working day and night are the Y.W.C.A. workers at the Hostess house.

Hundreds of relatives of sick soldiers are in Ayer and the problem of finding them accommodations is a big one. The Hostess house has cared for between 75 and 100 women every night during the past week. They have set up army cots and accommodated the mothers, sisters and sweethearts of men in the hospital.

A hostess is always on duty and keeps in touch with the Hostess hospital, informing visitors of the condition of their loved ones. When it becomes necessary for anyone to get to the hospital quickly, the Hostess house has an auto ready.

AYER HAS NEW HOSPITAL

AYER, Sept. 27.—The first hospital in town was opened at noon today and is designed to care for wives of soldiers ill with the grippe. The hospital is made possible through the Soldiers' club, which has turned over its building, and the co-operation of Maj. E. K. Sprague of the United States federal service, the American Red Cross and the war camp community service.

Because of the quarantine against the camp by the town of Ayer, the Soldiers' club has been inactive of late and it was decided to turn the house into a hospital. Ten beds have been installed. The Red Cross will provide nurses and the United States public health service will furnish doctors and ambulances. The hospital can be un-limited to accommodate 100.

THREE SOLDIERS HELD IN PROVIDENCE CHARGED WITH DESERPTION

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 27.—Three alleged deserters were arrested yesterday and will be sent back to camp. Earl P. Ormsbee of 283 Dudley street, this city, enlisted through the Boston recruiting station for the merchant marine. He was assigned to a training ship in Boston for education as a ship's cook. A week was enough for him and on Sept. 11 he deserted, no admits, and came home.

Private Harvey P. Pine of Co. H, 50th Infantry, is said to have left Camp Mills without leave Sept. 3. Enlisted in the army May 10, Private Herbert D. Smith of the 46th company, 12th Battalion, was charged with Camp Devens. He is assigned to having left camp without leave Sept. 6.

THE FRENCH ORPHANAGE

FUND IS GROWING

In spite of the cool weather last night the big "thermometer" over the entrance of the J. L. Chaffin Co. store in Merrimack street took another jump, as a result of the readings of the report of the day's work in connection with the drive for the $50,000 fund for the French-American orphanage. Although the weather was very unfavorable to say the least, the hearty and enthusiastic work of the evening was the keynote of the evening. It was found that the grand total had taken a jump from $28,194 to $21,210, and the showing was a very creditable one.

Last evening's meeting was full of life and spirit, and proved that nothing, not even a rainy night, can dampen the ardor of this energetic band of workers. St. Louis and Notre Dame de Lourdes reported last night, and some of the teams of these parishes did not turn in any reports. As no news is said to be good news, it is very probable that these teams have something up their sleeves about which more will be learned later in the campaign.

Boxes for the mill campaign were distributed among the different teams who have volunteered to look after this phase of the drive. These boxes will be placed outside of the mills and shops of Lowell today and tomorrow, so that all employees will be given a chance to participate in carrying the drive up and over the top. It was announced last night that not only the Billerica carshops, which had previously stated their intention to furnish some of their own workers to take care of the subscriptions at their plant, but also the Saco-Lowell shop, through the kindness of Mr. Hall, of that plant who has from the 2nd of August great interest in the campaign, would post their own workers at the boxes in order to lighten the labor of the campaign team.

Among the individual subscriptions reported last night must not be forgotten that of Troop 26 of the Boy Scouts who turned in pledges to the amount of $39. If a group of youngsters can bring in results like that it augurs well for the successful ending of the campaign, and the Scouts were cheered to the echo.

The highest individual subscription yesterday, $50, was received from the Harvard Brewing Co. This pledge was obtained by P. N. Cassette of the executive committee.

The championship banners were annexed last night by Team 5 for the men, of whom Avila Desrosiers is captain, and for the ladies, Team H. Captain Miss Marie Bonetto. Both of these captains are indefatigable in their efforts to keep the drive going on high speed, Miss Bonetto having won the coveted emblem for the last two successive nights. Captain Desrosiers' team is always full of pep and is sure to have an abundant supply of enthusiasm on tap. One of the features in connection with Team 5's pledge was that $200 of the amount was a personal pledge from their captain, which shows that Mr. Desrosiers believes in that old adage "practice what you preach."

The following went over the top yesterday with pledges of $100 or more:

Harvard Brewing Co. $100
O. H. Girard Co. $100
Avila Desrosiers $100
John H. Beaudry $100
Joseph A. DeBorne $100

Congressman Rogers

Congressman John Jacob Rogers has endorsed the orphanage campaign in the following statement: "I think I can safely say that it has been for years one of the conspicuous instruments of usefulness in the city of Lowell, the lack of which would have left a most deplorable void. I have no doubt that its usefulness will be still more manifest in the future, in view of the numbers of Lowell children who will be left fatherless because of the call to arms to which such a splendid response has been made by our fellow citizens of French ancestry."

In a letter to the Rev. Eugene Turcotte, expressing his regret at being unable to attend the meetings of the drive because of stress of government business in Washington, Congressman Rogers has this to say:

"I should like, however, to express to you my appreciation of the splendid work which has been done for the French-American children by the Pawtucket Street orphanage. For many years I lived within a few doors of the institution and had some knowledge of its methods and results. I think I can safely say that it has been for many years one of the conspicuous instruments of usefulness in the city of Lowell, the lack of which would have left a most deplorable void. I have no doubt that its usefulness will be still more manifest in the future, in view of the numbers of Lowell children who will be left fatherless because of the call to arms to which such a splendid response has been made by our fellow citizens of French ancestry."

"Assuring you of my regret that I cannot be with you to personally wish you success in your campaign, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
JOHN JACOB ROGERS.

BUILD NEW SEWER IN TILDEN STREET

A new sewer, 250 feet long, will have to be constructed to replace the one which broke last Monday evening in Tilden street near one of the buildings of the Merrimack Mfg. Co., according to Commissioner Charles J. Morse of the street department. In addition to this, 300 feet of the old sewer will have to be removed.

Commissioner Morse has transferred a considerable portion of the gang which has been working on the Varum avenue sewer to the Tilden street break and today considerable progress had been made. All the water in the break had been pumped out and the men had plenty of room in which to work.

The transfer of men from the Varum avenue sewer to Tilden street will delay the former work to some extent and will interfere seriously with Mr. Morse's plans to complete the work this fall.

Bulgar Peace

country was in a somewhat disorganized state with widespread discontent manifest over the prolongation of the war, in the further prosecution of which the Bulgarian people were able to see little advantage to them. There can be no doubt that the successful offensive of the allies now in progress in Macedonia has accentuated this tendency.

Malinoff, who took the premiership in June last, was friendly to the allies in the earlier stages of the war, before Bulgaria's entrance, and there have been predictions that he might in some way seek to use his influence towards extricating Bulgaria from the unfavorable position which she would occupy in the event of a German defeat which doubtless appears to him to be impending.

Berlin Doctors News

Early today came news from Berlin via Copenhagen, that Premier Malinoff of Bulgaria had proposed an armistice to the allies. The Germans apparently backed on the additional fact that this offer was made without the approval and consent of Czar Ferdinand and the rest of the Bulgarian cabinet. Further the Germans added on, that Malinoff's offer had created great dissatisfaction in Bulgaria and that strong military measures have been taken to support the Bulgarian front. A despatch from Jassy says that a counter movement against the action of the premier has been set on foot and this to the minds of some, strongly indicates that the Bulgars may be on the point of starting a revolution if they have not already started one, with the news of it carefully held back by German press censorship.

The Berlin message to Copenhagen gives the first indication of any move made by Bulgaria to approach her enemies with conciliatory proposals. The message, in its bare outlines, seems to indicate that the premier had taken matters into his own hands, and attempted to initiate a peace move for Bulgarian independence of the dynasty.

A move so made might ordinarily be considered in a broad way to amount to a revolutionary act, and possibly points to the execution of a coup d'etat in Sofia.

Bulgars Discouraged

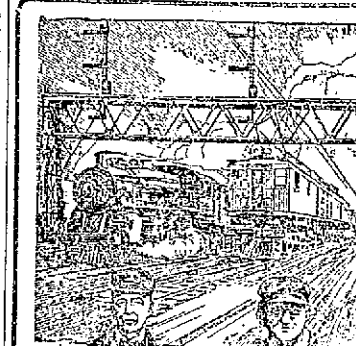

The indications in the news from Bulgaria, recently have been that the

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL REGISTRATION

The registration at the city's evening vocational schools last evening was held as announced, and in spite of the inclement weather the attendance was unusually good. Girls who had intended to register at the Morrill and Butler schools and did not do so last night may enroll at the Morrill school next Wednesday night from 7.30 to 9 p. m. This applies to all who had intended to register last night at either of the two schools.

The registration of girls at the Greenhaile school scheduled for tonight will take place as usual. Principal Fisher announced, and all who intend to join should get their names in as soon as possible.

The principal also stated that all men who have not already registered at the Mann school on Broadway will have a chance to enroll next Wednesday night.

Radio School

In referring to the work at the Mann school Mr. Fisher said, "We have 87 men already registered, and I wish to urge all those who are contemplating joining to do so at once, so that provisions may be made for them before the opening, Oct. 7. The radio and buzzer classes at the Mann school will not be affected by the influenza ban, and will run as usual. The prospects for a useful and instructive season look very good at present, and we are hoping for some fine results."

COAL HOARDERS HELP THE HUNS

The coal hoarder is the person who stores up more coal in his cellar than he can use, economically, this winter. There are many in every city. Some are outright pro-Germans. Others are merely selfish Americans, more concerned about their own comfort than the nation's winning the war.

A movement already has been started to spot the coal hoarders and divide up their stores.

The Municipal Journal suggests that every city have a coal hunting party. It urges that cellars and other coal store rooms be visited and when any excess coal storing be found, the pile be taken from the hoarders.

"Cities that have not already done so should inspect every cellar and outbuilding in the town and secure a record of the amount of coal now stored in each one," says the Municipal Journal.

"Hoarding of domestic coal was practiced to a greater or less extent last year. Some cellars were found this spring to contain enough fuel to beat the house for another winter." It is proposed as a wartime measure that heating experts pass upon the coal piles of fuel hoarders and that all above the amount necessary to keep the home heated at a wartime temperature, be turned back to the dealers and resold to other home consumers.

HEATLESS ROOMS IN EVERY HOME

Heated unused rooms waste the nation's coal pile.

You help the Kaiser by keeping unused rooms warm during cold weather. Bedrooms, little used during the day, need not be heated. Windows should be left open all night, and with plenty of bedclothing, and a sleeping hood if necessary, there is no need for furnace heat. Shut off those rooms from the heating plant.

Other rooms should not be heated on days or evenings they are not to be used.

In this way, fuel economists figure, the United States may help make up the shortage in coal.

"If you have a hot water heating system," advises the fuel administration, "make heavy radiator slip-covers and put them over radiators when not in use. This will prevent them from freezing."

But it is not the wisest economy to let the whole house get cold during a night. Takes too much coal next morning to heat it up, and the strain on the heating system is too great. Some rooms, those used during the day and evening should be kept moderately warm all night.

A large number of dogs are being sent from Birmingham, England, every week for service at the front. There is a special demand for airedales, but terriers and collies.

Guard Against Influenza

Prepare Your System—Increase Your Bodily Resistance

Leading physicians are recommending various things for the people to do to guard themselves against the Spanish Influenza epidemic. They tell you to keep out of crowds, avoid being near people who are cold, get out into the sun and fresh air and take plenty of exercise, get to bed early at night and take a little more sleep and rest than you usually do, eat good, nourishing, wholesome food and tone up your system.

Plenty of iron in the blood makes vitality, strength and resisting power against disease. Iron-Lax-Tonic Tablets should be taken without delay as a tonic to tone up the system and put iron into the blood. There is no one supposed to be any shortage of this remedy at the present time but if you should find a drug store where you cannot get Iron-Lax-Tonic Tablets, persist until you find a store that does sell them. It will be well to keep up the treatment during the next few or three weeks. Get it today at Fred Howard's, Lowell Pharmacy and Drugs, the Druggist—Adv.
